

Board Of Health Endorses Authority-Operated Garbage Collection And Incinerator

A proposal advanced by Councilman John D. Teeter at borough council meeting Monday night that the Gettysburg Municipal Authority be requested to finance and build an incinerator plant and set up an authority-operated garbage and refuse collection system was given the endorsement of the Board of Health at its December meeting Wednesday night in the office of the president, Atty. Eugene R. Hartman.

The board adopted a resolution, on motion of Dr. Harrison F. Harbach, commending Councilman Teeter for his suggestion and urging that council give it further consideration and take steps necessary to modernize the garbage disposal system. The secretary, Health Officer Donald E. Staub, was directed to notify council of the board's action.

Eliminate Town Dump
"Such a plan would eliminate the borough dump, which is a breeder, not only of rats, but of mosquitoes," Dr. Harbach said. "It would also provide a more efficient collection of garbage and refuse in the borough, and place the garbage collectors under direct supervision."

Other members of the Health Board said that public opinion should favor such a plan as proposed by Councilman Teeter, and suggested that individuals and organizations write to council members, expressing their opinions.

It was Atty. Hartman's last meeting as a member of the board. His term will expire January 1, and Borough Council on Monday night named Atty. John MacPhail in his place. Mr. Hartman had notified council he would not accept reappointment. Mr. MacPhail attended Wednesday night's meeting.

Hartman Praises Board
Mr. Hartman, who is completing his third year on the board, said he believed that no one should serve "too long" on the board, and that other citizens should be (Please Turn to Page 2)

Two Local Men Are Back From Korea

Two Gettysburg area men have returned from duty in Korea, according to word received here from the armed forces.

Sgt. Richard McKonny Mattingly, 117 Carlisle St., is about to be separated from the army at Fort Custer, Michigan, according to word from Major John F. Ott of that installation, after "notable service to his country in Korea," according to the letter from Fort Custer.

Sgt. Richard D. Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Herring, Gettysburg R. 2, is at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation for reassignment after serving with the U.S. Army's Far East Command, according to the Indiantown Gap public information office. Sergeant Herring, a former shipping clerk with the Victor Products Corporation here, entered the armed forces January 23, 1951, and served 17 months in Korea with Battery C of the 158th Field Artillery Battalion.

Posts $1,000 Bail For False Pretense

Glendon M. Shank, Philadelphia, arrested Monday night by borough police on warrants charging him with obtaining money from two Gettysburg beauty parlor operators by false pretense, waived a hearing late Wednesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore and was held for penniless. He posted $500 bail on each charge.

Shank is charged with obtaining $21 from Ruba Shriver, 48 York St., and $33.50 from Mildred Shoop, Chambersburg St., by "falsely claiming" that beauty shop equipment was in need of repairing.

Open every evening including Thursday, until Christmas, Rose-Ann Shoppe.

FTC TO BRING FRUIT HEARING HERE ON JAN. 5

A Federal Trade Commission hearing on charges of a conspiracy to fix apple prices will be resumed in Roanoke tomorrow for a one day session, the Associated Press reported today.

Testimony ended in Charlottesville yesterday after three days. An FTC examiner earlier had heard witnesses in Washington. Further testimony will begin Jan. 5 at Gettysburg, Pa., and later in Washington again.

Stiff competition and not any price-fixing deal led his firm to have similar prices to those of another company, the examiner was told yesterday by J. P. Arthur, sales manager of the Shenandoah Valley Apple Cider and Vinegar Corp., of Winchester.

THREE POLICE CONVERGE ON TIPSY DRIVER

State police of the Gettysburg substation arrested William Harry Bell, 48, of Silver Spring, Md., shortly after 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, Bell signed a plea of guilty and was held for court. He was committed to the Adams County Jail in default of $500 bail.

Bell's arrest took place at the traffic signal at Carlisle St. and Lincoln Ave. A motorist driving in the Dillsburg area had reported to a state police patrol car Bell's erratic driving. The police car radioed its headquarters in Harrisburg which in turn radioed the Gettysburg substation.

Two local substation cars equipped with radios were notified and started for the Harrisburg Rd., one from McKnightstown and the other from a point on the Biglerville Rd. A third car had "spotted" Bell driving toward Gettysburg and had given chase, catching Bell when he stopped for the traffic signal.

The car from McKnightstown had come through Gettysburg and was traveling north on Carlisle St. The other car had come south on the Biglerville Rd., intending to turn at the traffic light and go north on the Harrisburg Rd. to head Bell off.

All three met almost simultaneously when Bell stopped at the intersection.

Lloyd Herring, chairman of the committee, said both Charles S. Harris, scout field executive, and Walter Morse, district commissioner, will be present for the session.

A tiny photo-electric cell, hardly larger than a man's thumb will be installed Friday, weather permitting, to turn Gettysburg's street lights on in the evening and turn them off again in the morning.

A new photo-electric relay, the first to be installed in the Gettysburg District of the Metropolitan-Edison Co., will operate the street lighting in place of the present astronomical dial, which regulates the turning on and off the current for the street lights by the seasons. No change in electric rates is involved.

As the intensity of light increases in the morning, the photo-electric cell will absorb the light and turn the current off. In the evening, as daylight wanes, the same cell will activate a relay which will turn the current on.

Takes Weather Into Account

"This is another step toward modernizing street lighting," Ralph E. Leber, York, street lighting engineer of the Metropolitan-Edison, said today. Mr. Leber and Kenneth Myers, York, production engineer, were in Gettysburg conferring with Richard A. Dreas, local manager, on the installation.

"The photo-electric cell," said Mr. Leber, "is designed to eliminate hazardous conditions caused by lights going off too early in the morning or not being turned on early enough in the evening as the type of weather varies."

The photo-electric cell, he said, will be governed by the amount of daylight, and not by the time. If the weather is cloudy, heavily overcast, stormy or foggy, lights will come on earlier in the evening, or remain lighted later in the morning.

For the present, the photo-electric cell will govern all street lighting in Gettysburg except the ornamental lights on the "white way." Mr. Leber said another control will be installed for them "in the near future."

XMAS PARTY IS HELD TUESDAY BY BIBLE CLASS

A Christmas program was held by the Maude Miller Bible Class of St. James Lutheran Church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the social room of the church. The affair opened with group singing of the carols, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "The First Noel." Mrs. Henry T. Bream gave a scriptural reading and Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh offered a prayer.

Mrs. Harry Gilbert sang a solo, "O Thou Joyful Day," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Richard Shae. Mrs. Anna Heintzleman read "The Noel Candle" by Clement C. Moore. Afterwards the group sang "Holy Night, Peaceful Night." A vocal duet was sung by Mrs. Laverne Hamme and Mrs. Shade who presented "Holy Night," by Arthur Olaf Anderson and "Let Our Gladness Know No End," a Bohemian melody. Mrs. Howard Hartzell was the piano accompanist. Later the group sang "Joy to the World."

Gifts Are Exchanged

Yuletide decorations created a holiday atmosphere in the social room. The coffee table was adorned with tall candles and a centerpiece created from Chinese Yew boughs with crimson balls. Mrs. Gresh and Mrs. J. Howard Gaines presided at the table. Gifts were exchanged among the class members and Mrs. Gresh received several gifts in appreciation of her work with the organization.

White cotton snowmen with red and green caps were placed on the trays as favors. They were designed and made by the Girl Scout Troop sponsored by the Bible Class and were prepared by the girls as a holiday project.

TRINITY CIRCLE NAMES OFFICERS

Mrs. Jennings B. Collins was elected president of Trinity Circle of Trinity Reformed Church Tuesday evening at the December meeting and Christmas party at the home of Miss Alice M. Snyder, Baltimore St. Mrs. Collins succeeds Mrs. Fred Hummelbaugh, who served for the last year.

Miss Snyder was elected vice president. Mrs. Perry J. Tawney was elected secretary. Officers re-elected were Mrs. Harry Price, financial secretary, and Mrs. Curtis Flohr, treasurer. Mrs. Collins will appoint a program committee to select hostesses to serve for the coming year. At the January meeting, the officers will serve as hostesses.

Mrs. Tawney, chairman of hostesses for the evening, was in charge of the program which opened the meeting. Mrs. Donald E. Myers presented greetings and the call to worship. Mrs. C. Robert Deardorff read the scripture lesson and Mrs. William R. Swisher presented a Christmas story. Mrs. Edward Settle concluded the program with a prayer. Carols were sung by the group with Miss Snyder at the piano.

Members voted $15 for gifts for several aged members of the congregation. The special committee named for this purpose includes Mrs. Swisher, chairman; Mrs. Robert P. Snyder and Mrs. Myers. The group also voted to pay $350 toward the building fund of the church and $60 as its quarterly interest share. A gift of $15 to Homewood, Hagerstown, home for the aged of the church, was also voted. Mrs. S. Lester Scott was named to make arrangements for the annual gift of a CARE package.

After an exchange of gifts, a tape recording of the minstrel show presented earlier in the year by Circle members at a "congregational fun night" was presented by Mrs. Collins after which Mrs. Collins showed pictures of the participants. Refreshments were served by the hostesses committee which comprised Mrs. Tawney, Miss Snyder, Mrs. Deardorff, Mrs. Robert Saylor, Mrs. Charles W. Oden, Mrs. Swisher, Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Settle. About 25 members attended. The Snyder home was decorated with Christmas greens.

SAYS 2 BUREAUS RETARD PROBE OF REDS IN U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional inquiry was under way today into alleged efforts by the State and Justice Departments to delay or tone down a federal grand jury charge of communism in the United Nations.

The investigation was launched by a House judiciary subcommittee less than 24 hours after juror Max Zimmerman accused the government agencies of teaming up to interfere with its sharply-worded presentation.

Chairman Chelf (D-Ky) and Rep. Keating (R-NY) said "serious charges of delay, interference and hampering" had been leveled against the Justice and State Departments.

Wanted Probe Dropped

"Allegations indicate that, two months ago, a 'certain faction' within the Justice Department attempted to have the grand jury drop its inquiry into Communist activities in the United Nations," the lawmakers announced, adding: "These charges will be thoroughly and completely explored by the subcommittee staff and investigation is presently under way, both in New York and Washington, to determine the full facts."

The State Department denied that it had anything to do with any such attempts.

And U. S. Atty. Myres J. Lane was quoted by the New York Herald-Tribune as saying he had checked the presentment at the request of the grand jury. He said Atty. Gen. McGranery wanted "to satisfy himself on the legal points."

The International Monetary Fund, meanwhile, disclosed that its secretary has been fired after refusing to tell a Senate internal security subcommittee whether he was ever a Communist or a wartime spy.

Denies He's A Red

The secretary, Frank Coe, said at his Arlington, Va., home that he did not "care to comment." He denied that he was a Communist in sworn testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1948.

Coe has been secretary of the fund, which has contractual arrangements with the U. N. but is not a part of it, since it was set up in 1946 to stabilize currencies and foster world trade relations.

Coe's refusal to answer questions about his past before the Senate subcommittee Monday was called "the sorriest spectacle I have ever witnessed" by acting chairman O'Connor (D-Md). The senator demanded Coe's ouster.

The subcommittee has also been investigating American employees of the U. N. nearly a score of whom have refused to say whether they were ever Communists.

The federal grand jury in New York City on Tuesday completed an 18-month inquiry by handing up a 3,000-word presentment charging there is a "concentration of disloyal Americans" in the U. N. and its related agencies.

The presentment was given Federal Judge David N. Edelstein after several hours delay during which jurors reported they were urged to delay it or "tone it down."

Find Woman's Body In Blazing Market

MANSFIELD, P. (AP)—The body of a woman believed slugged by robbers was found in the blazing office of a supermarket early today, Police Capt. Paul Whipp reported.

He identified her as Mrs. Leah Sternbaum, about 30, wife of Ernest Max Sternbaum, owner of a supermarket chain here.

Capt. Whipp said it appeared robbers had set fire to the office after slugging Mrs. Sternbaum and her husband. Sternbaum was found unconscious in an alley behind the office. Mrs. Sternbaum's body was charred by the time firemen were able to enter the building.

Sternbaum, taken to a hospital, told police he and his wife were working late at the office when he heard two men enter. One of them hit him on the head.

NAMED JUNIOR VISITOR

Mrs. Alice Rice Paddock, Gettysburg R. 2, has been named by the Adams County Commissioners as a junior visitor with the Adams County Child Welfare Services.

Littlestown OFFICERS FOR FIRE COMPANY ARE NOMINATED

Officers for 1953 were nominated at the December meeting of the Alpha Fire Company No. 1, held on Tuesday evening in the engine house. The nominations were: President, Charles W. Snyder; vice president, Monroe J. Stavely and Paul L. Hollinger; secretary, Harry W. Badders; treasurer, Paul E. Althoff; fire chief, Glenn E. Ohler; truck foreman, Dennis S. Wallick; chief nozzleman, Robert L. Snyder and Jack H. Crouse; pipe foreman, Herbert Frook and Walter C. Myers; trustee for five years, Bernard M. Selby and Harold Sparver. Officers will be elected at the January meeting.

The meeting was in charge of the president, Bernard M. Selby, and opened with the group singing of "America" and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. Paul E. Althoff, treasurer, and a member of the committee on arrangements for the recent smoker, reported receipts of $683.76, expenses of $362 and net profit of $321.76. The smoker committee was commended and received a rising vote of thanks. The secretary's report was presented by Harry W. Badders. The name of John R. Rudisill was submitted for membership in the company and an investigating committee composed of Edward G. Loeffel, James U. Bowers and Robert Koontz was appointed by the president.

By-Laws Revised

The following revision to the by-laws, presented by a committee consisting of Henry E. Waltman, Jay D. Basehoar and Wayne C. Arnold, was adopted: "Any person elected to membership on or after the date of adoption of these by-laws (Aug. 2, 1943) will be automatically dropped from the company when removing his residence from the rural mailing district of Littlestown, Pa. We further resolve that all members who were dropped under the old by-laws of article three, section five, be reinstated by paying the capita tax in the Adams County Firemen's Association."

Final figures on the cost of the new addition to the fire engine house, including the addition, the lighting system and other new features, were presented by the secretary. The fire company paid $3,604.92, as its share and the Littlestown Borough Council paid the same amount, bringing the total cost to $7,209.84. The emergency lighting system alone cost $1,339.50.

Fire Chief Glenn E. Ohler announced that two calls have been answered during the past month. A Christmas cheer committee, composed of the president, secretary and treasurer, will select and purchase a remembrance for members of the company who are ill.

The committee which had been appointed to purchase carnival equipment reported that the equipment had been received, but where they had expected new equipment, second hand equipment had been shipped. It was voted to leave the decision to the committee, as to whether they should keep the equipment sent, or return it for new equipment, after the invoice is received. There was also a discussion concerning the lending of equipment. A committee comprising Robert Koontz, John Burgoon, Burnell Keagy, Henry E. Waltman and Jay D. Basehoar was appointed by the president to decide the course of action to be followed and before the close of the meeting, they presented a report, which was adopted.

This provides that the equipment to be in the custody of Truck Foreman Dennis S. Wallick, and equipment will be loaned to any organization in the community for a rental fee of $10 per night, with the borrower assuming full responsibility in case of damage or loss. Out of town organizations may also borrow the equipment, for a fee of $25 for one night, or $20 for each additional night.

Mr. Wallick proposed that the company purchase lumber and materials, sharing the cost with the Ladies' Auxiliary, to make permanent tables for functions sponsored by either organization. President Selby appointed Wayne C. Arnold, Henry E. Waltman and Mr. Wallick to investigate the cost of such materials and also price of ready-made tables.

After the meeting refreshments were served to the 43 members in attendance by the December social committee consisting of Clair Redding, Walter C. Myers and Guy Conover. The next meeting will be held January 6, at 7:30 p.m.

Three Trucks Burn At Chambersburg

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Three new trucks were destroyed and an entire building burned to the ground in a fire that consumed a paint shop on the north end of Chambersburg.

Twenty persons who were working inside the frame building when the blaze was discovered last night fled safely.

Cause of the fire was not determined at once, L. B. Smith Co., owners of the building, were unable to estimate their loss.

The city's entire fire department fought the flames a half hour before bringing them under control.

They have been stationed there since last January, having enlisted January, 1951. They will be on leave until January 5, 1953.

ADLAI, HARRY WON'T WAR ON IKE'S PROGRAM

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said today he and President Truman are in complete agreement not to wage war on Dwight Eisenhower's program simply for party advantage.

And, he told reporters at a White House news conference, the Democratic party's two major problems are: (1) to wipe out a deficit of more than half a million dollars and (2) to "serve the public interest."

Stevenson spoke to newsmen after conferring with President Truman at the White House, the Washington residence for which he bid in his unsuccessful campaign for the presidency.

Chatted Amably

He made no major pronouncements at the news conference, but chatted amably with reporters who piled him with questions about his political future and that of the Democratic party.

The Illinois governor did say these things:

1. He has no immediate plans for the future other than to take a long rest and possibly to travel abroad.

2. He knows of no plans for a change in the top leadership of the Democratic National Committee, but it may be necessary to reorganize the committee structure because of the deficit in funds.

He added that he expects his hand-picked national chairman, Stephen A. Mitchell, to stay on in the job.

Sidesteps Questions

3. It is up to the Democratic leadership in Congress to serve as "the instrument of being constructive and a wholesome influence in our public life."

He sidestepped a question of whether he thought there were enough Democrats in Congress sharing his and the President's views to "exert much leadership" in the new Congress.

Stevenson said he didn't want to venture an opinion on that.

Some Southern Democrats already have challenged Stevenson's status as titular leader in the party. Sen. Burnett Maybank of South Carolina said he regards Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia as the party's titular leader.

Littlestown NOMINATIONS MADE BY WOMEN OF FIRE COMPANY

Nomination of officer was held at the December meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Alpha Fire Company No. 1, on Monday evening at the engine house. The nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. Mary Arnold, Mrs. Odette Strevig and Mrs. Evelyn Basehoar, prepared a slate of officers and reported as follows: President, Mrs. Katherine Flickinger; vice president, Mrs. Bernadine Rickrode; secretary, Mrs. Mildred Wallick and Mrs. Ruth Grouse; treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Burgoon and Mrs. Mary Dillman; trustee, Mrs. Viola Badders and Mrs. Helen Oster.

The meeting, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Viola Badders, opened with the group singing of "America" and the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Reports were presented by the secretary, Mrs. Treva Snyder, and the treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Burgoon. Mrs. Annabelle Olier reported for the bingo committee. The Auxiliary decided to assist the company in purchasing lumber to have tables made for use at bingo parties and the annual summer carnival.

The guess package was contributed by Mrs. Helen Oster and was received by Mrs. Mabel Hollinger. Mrs. Mary Arnold, chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Burgoon, Mrs. Virginia Boyd and Mrs. Viola Badders were appointed to serve as the entertainment and refreshment committee at the next meeting on Monday, January 5, 7:30 p.m., at the engine house.

A Christmas party was featured following the business session. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served to the group by the December committee composed of Mrs. Mary Dillman, chairman, Mrs. Emily Hahn, Mrs. Arlene Blocher and Mrs. Mabel Hollinger.

Girls' Guild Elects
Miss Judy Wildasin, Jackson St., Hanover, was hostess to the Girls' Guild of Christ Reformed Church for the monthly meeting held on Tuesday evening. The meeting, which was in charge of the president, Phyllis Markle, opened with the group singing of Christmas carols. The Scripture was read by Anna Mae Sell. Reports were given by the secretary, Shirley Markle, and the treasurer, Anna Mae Sell. Election of officers for 1953 then took place and the results follow: President, Phyllis Markle; secretary, Joyce Berwager; treasurer, Anna Mae Sell; chairman of the birthday collection, Doris Ridinger and chairman of the thank-offering collection, Janet Sell. It was decided to roast peanuts at the January meeting to be held at the home of Joyce Berwager. Hanover. The definite date of this meeting will be announced later.

The Tuesday meeting concluded with a social hour and Christmas gifts were exchanged by the members. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Elect Mrs. Norwood
Election of officers took place at the December meeting of the Mite Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Stambaugh, North Queen St. The results of the election follow: President, Mrs. Emma Norwood; first vice president, Mrs. Maurice C. Wareheim; second vice president, Mrs. Della Collins; secretary, Mrs. Paul H. Scheivert; assistant secretary, Mrs. Walter Groce; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Mehning, and flower committee chairman, Mrs. Ellen Feeser.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Norwood, and the secretary, Mrs. Scheivert, presented her monthly report. The society decided to pack Christmas baskets for the shut-ins of the congregation. The group will meet at the church on Tuesday, December 16, to pack the baskets. It was planned to hold the next regular meeting on Tuesday, January 6, at 8:30 p.m. at the church, following the preaching mission service. The Tuesday session concluded with a social hour and refreshments were served to the group by Mrs. Stambaugh.

Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown Joint School System, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of St. John's Lutheran Church, Sunday evening. Mr. King discussed the subject "Timothy Grows in Service." A song service was held with Evelyn Harget as piano accompanist. The Scripture lesson was read by Charolyn Groft and prayer was offered by the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karus. A brief business period was held in charge of the president, Mrs. George Trump. Mrs. Trump will be the leader at the meeting next Sunday evening at 6 o'clock and will discuss the topics "How Jesus Utilized Prayer" and "Rhoda Grows in Faith."

A program dealing with winter sports was presented during the assembly period at the Littlestown Junior Senior High School on Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium. The new basketball rules for 1953 were read to the group by Maurice E. Bream, coach of the boys' varsity basketball team. Donald Fuhrman and Thomas Aumen, from the Hanover High School, gave a wrestling demonstration. The youths showed the stance in wrestling, how to throw and pin the opponent, the part the referee plays and other facts of interest relating to inter-collegiate wrestling. The program was arranged by Clayton L. Evans, H. Dean Stover and Mrs. Kay C. Smith, of the faculty. The program

Committee Declares State Education Costs Can Be Cut By "Millions Of Dollars"

HARRISBURG (AP)—A special investigating committee set up by Gov. John S. Fine pinpointed attention on education costs today with a statement that they could be reduced by "many millions of dollars."

The reduction could be accomplished, the State Government Survey Committee said, "without the slightest impairment of educational values."

Recommendations were submitted by the committee which, it said, would save the commonwealth some 15 million dollars a biennium in school and college costs.

The seven-man unit, popularly called the Chesterman Committee, surveyed public education as one of 30 studies undertaken since last March with a view to recommending means of promoting efficiency and economy in the state's government.

Criticizes School Policies
The education report criticized organization of the Department of Public Instruction as well as operation and policies of the Pennsylvania State College and 14 state teachers colleges.

Neither Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of public instruction, or Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Penn State, had any comment on the report.

It also concentrated fire on what it termed "defects in present formula for distribution of state subsidies to local school districts."

Francis J. Chesterman, Philadelphia, committee chairman, said the study due to the "comparatively brief time available" had to be confined to "a general appraisal of conditions and needs."

"However, we are convinced that an invaluable service could be rendered to the cause of public education through a truly comprehensive survey pursuing further the matters briefly covered by our report."

Calls Department Outmoded
The recommendations of the committee in the field of education and others will be considered by the 1953 Legislature.

The committee termed organization of the Department of Public Instruction "outmoded and confused" and said it "allows little delegation of authority."

"As a result, the commonwealth lacks leadership, program and administrative organization for its almost half-billion dollars a biennium expenditure for public education," it said.

Here, the committee offered a six-point program aimed at putting the department on a sounder administrative basis. It includes:

1. Appointment by the governor of a State Board of Education to supplant the present State Council of Education, which has advisory status only.
2. Appointment of a non-political superintendent of public instruction.

3. Seek Efficient Operation
4. All professional personnel of the department to be named by the state board, with recommendation by the superintendent.
5. While these statutory and constitutional changes are being made, revise radically the organization of the department aimed at more efficient operation.

6. Transfer professional licensing next Wednesday afternoon will be in charge of the Littlestown Ministerium.

the administration of the solicitation act and the board of motion picture censors to a "more appropriate department."

6. Staff the department's school plant division more "adequately" to give school districts "necessary advice on their building programs."

At present, the head of the Department of Public Instruction is appointed by the governor. In only four other states is he a direct appointee of the chief executive of the state.

Particular concern was expressed by the committee over the expansion of the Pennsylvania State College. Since 1949 the college has undergone a building program costing more than 10 million dollars.

Aid Other Schools
The committee cited the cost of living away from home experienced by students at Penn State and recommended that the commonwealth consider aid to other liberal arts colleges now receiving some state aid where more students might live at home.

Other such colleges are the University of Pennsylvania, Temple University and the University of Pittsburgh.

On the subject on teacher training, the committee found that the 14 state teachers colleges "are not fulfilling their original purpose, which is the training of teachers."

The committee pointed out that during the years 1941 to 1951 little more than 14,000 of the 20,000 teachers college graduates in Pennsylvania entered the teaching profession in the state.

"This was despite the fact that the state subsidizes 30 to 50 per cent of total expenses for teachers college training," the report said, adding:

Teachers Never Taught
"In other words, the state in that period helped pay for the teacher college training of approximately 6,000 men and women who, at least as far as Pennsylvania schools are concerned, never became teachers."

The Chesterman Committee recommended that the commonwealth require such graduates to teach for a certain minimum time or reimburse the state for the cost of their education.

"Limiting the enrollment at teachers colleges to prospective teachers would allow the closing of half of the present teachers colleges," the report said, adding that five million dollars a biennium could be saved in this way.

The committee also offered recommendations for what it called more equitable and efficient distribution of state subsidies.

Heavy Financial Burden
It noted that the amount granted by the state to local school districts during the 1951-53 biennium is "four times what it was 10 years earlier, and that under existing law the commonwealth will be obligated to increase its grants from the present 286 million a biennium to an estimated 488 million in 1959-61."

The committee listed four ways in which it figured great savings could be made in school administration. They are:

1. Eliminate double payment to kindergarten teachers handling two classes—to save an estimated four million dollars a biennium.
2. Limit state subsidies to an amount not greater than the cost of instruction in the individual schools to save another four mil-

Emmitsburg LEGION PLANS HOLIDAY PARTY ON JANUARY 8

The monthly meeting of the Francis X. Elder Post No. 131, American Legion, was held on Tuesday night at the post home. Commander T. Eugene Rodgers presided at the meeting with 581 members present.

Richard Yeomans gave a report on air conditioning which the Post has planned to have installed in the near future. Commander Rodgers requested that a committee be formed to study the plans and report at the next meeting.

Robert Daugherty, chairman of the annual Legion Christmas party, reported that the date set for the party is January 8 and according to plans will be held in the Fairfield Community Hall. The committee selected to work with him is: Richard Yeomans, Charles Harner, Louis F. Rosensteel, Andrew T. Shorb, Thomas C. Harbaugh, William D. Rodgers and Louis Kreftz.

Mr. Daugherty also reported that he received many favorable comments pertaining to the Legion drill team and color guard which took place at the annual parade.

Other Savings
3. Strict application of the reimbursement formula in the case of one-room schools having less than the designated number of pupils—to save another $450,000 a biennium.

4. Eliminate two exceptions to the uniform application of the subsidy formula to save another million per biennium. These exceptions provide that no district shall receive less than $1,000 per teaching unit and in no event less than it received in 1949-50.

The committee pointed out that during the period, 1931-52 some 29 million dollars was granted to financially distressed school districts. The committee recommended that "more attention be paid to curing the cause of insolvency instead of perpetuating insolvency through repeated grants."

first prize in the Armistice Day parade in Brunswick.

Honor Roll Not Complete
Commander T. Eugene Rodgers, who is the drillmaster, announced that the color guard and drill team will disband with their meetings and drill practices until after the first of the year, except when called upon to take part in funerals, or special occasions. At that time, more members will be admitted to the drill team.

Philip B. Sharpe, chairman of the honor roll committee, reported that corrections will be made on the honor roll, but at present the list is not complete. Comrade Sharpe also reported that the honor roll will be repaired as soon as arrangements can be made. He chose Richard Yeomans and Thomas Ginglell to work with him on this project.

Philip Sharpe also reported that the local Legion post in cooperation with the local VFW post will present Christmas gifts to veterans in a nearby Veterans' hospital.

The Legion is conjunction with the VFW post will, as in previous years, distribute candy and oranges to all the children in the schools in this vicinity.

Elect New Members
New members voted into the post were Prof. Harold G. Guschung, Mt. St. Mary's faculty; Thomas W. Sanders, Jack McClell, Emmitsburg; Lloyd Kellholtz, Washington, D. C.; Bernard E. Sprinkle, Fairfield, and Nevin E. Hoffacker, Poolesville, Md.

Commander Rodgers read a letter from the Kugler family thanking the post and the following Legionnaires: Joseph Sanders, Leo Sanders, Louis F. Rosensteel, Trooper Kenneth D. Bond and Thomas C. Harbaugh for traveling to Hagerstown to donate blood for Miss Mary Elizabeth Kugler who has been ill.

The door prize was won by T. Eugene Rodgers.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by the ladies of the Auxiliary.

TRAINS AT FORT BELVOIR

Pvt. William V. Riley, of Gardners, has started his Army training at the Engineer Replacement Training Center, Fort Belvoir, Va. Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Riley, at Route 1, Gardners, entered the Army November 12. He is a graduate of York Springs High School.

Emmitsburg LEGION WOMEN TO HOLD PARTY

The Francis X. Elder Unit No. 131, American Legion Auxiliary, held its December meeting on Tuesday evening in the Post Home. Twenty-five members were present with the president, Mrs. Carmen Topper, presiding.

Plans were made for the unit's annual Christmas party which will be held on Wednesday evening, December 17, at 8 p.m. in the Legion Home. Gifts will be exchanged and a turkey dinner will be served. Members not present at the meeting are requested to get in touch with the president or secretary for details. Blue Cross insurance is now due and payments should be made by December 20th.

A food and rummage sale will be held by the Auxiliary in the Firemen's Hall on Saturday, December 13, beginning at 9 a.m.

Mary Theresa Miller was appointed chairman of the Gold Star Mothers' committee.

Gifts For Veterans

A gift of money will be presented to each veteran at the Maryland State Sanatorium during the Christmas holidays.

Refreshment committee for the January meeting includes Charlotte Sanders, Virginia Sanders and Ruth Gillelan. After the meeting the ladies joined the men of the Post for refreshments.

A public card party will be held this evening in the Firemen's Hall for the benefit of the Vigilant Hose Company.

The Cub Scouts will hold a food sale in the Firemen's Hall on Saturday morning, December 6.

To Give Pageant

St. Joseph's High School Glee Club will present "The Christmas Story in Carol and Gospel" in the auditorium on Sunday, December 14, and Tuesday, December 16, at 8 p.m. Admission to the presentation will be 50 cents.

A new set of gym suits for the girls' basketball team has just been completed. Mrs. Guy Baker, Mrs. Austin L. Joy, Mrs. Edward Lings, Mrs. Clarence Sanders, Mrs. Louis Topper, Mrs. Herbert White and several of the fourth-year students gave generously of their time and talent to make the prospect of sewing 18 suits a reality.

"Bringing Mary Into Our Teen-Age Lives" is the topic selected by the first-year students for a Panel Discussion to be held December 9. Mary Edith Bailey is the chairman, Joyce Behr, Lois Raab, Nancy Capuano, Jean Watkins, Arthur Blanchard and John Roddy are the other members of the panel. Rosewig's "Ave Maria" will be sung by the girls, and will be followed by "Mother of God" in choral speaking. The singing of "Star Crowned Virgin" by the student body will close the program.

The first basketball games of the season were played on Tuesday evening, December 2, with St. John's High from Frederick offering the opposition. After the girls lost by a score of 34-23, the boys were spurred by high scoring Edward O'Brien to a victory of 58-51.

Bonneauville

BONNEAUVILLE — The N. C. C. W. of St. Joseph's parish held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening in the parish hall. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Evelyn Chrismer. The regular order of business followed with reports from the various chairmen. Mrs. Chrismer urged the members to remember gifts for charitable purposes during the Christmas season.

After adjournment the youth club presented a Christmas scene, with Mrs. Rita Walter directing. Santa Claus distributed gifts to all present and a covered dish social followed. Forty members attended. Mrs. George Miller, Deaneery president, was an additional guest.

Robert Chrismer, Penn State, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gebhart.

Norman Little shot an eight-point deer Monday morning while hunting with a group of men near Ft. Loudon.

Stricklers Guests At Reception In Rome

ROME (AP)—Pennsylvania's former lieutenant governor, Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, and Mrs. Strickler were guests of honor last night at a reception given them by U. S. and Italian military officials. Strickler, former commanding general of the U. S. 28th Division at Frankfurt, Germany, came to Italy two days ago to become chief of the U. S. Military Aid and Advisory Group for Italy.

Last night's reception was arranged by the man Strickler is relieving—Maj. Gen. John K. Rice, who is retiring. Among the more than 200 other guests present was Gen. Ifisio Marras, chief of staff of the Italian armed forces.

IS HONOR GRADUATE

Pvt. Robert H. Kennedy, Bendersville, was presented with a scroll recently as honor graduate of the army's supply handlers' course at Fort Lee, Va. Presentation was made by Col. Joseph Dougherty, commanding officer of the training center. Pvt. Kennedy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Kennedy of Bendersville. He is a member of Co. F, Second Training Group, Quartermaster Replacement Center, Fort Lee. He entered the army on July 30, 1952.

A total of $362,809.265 was wagered on harness races during 1952, an increase of 19.34 per cent over the previous high set in 1951.

A total of 7,903,590 fans attended mutual harness racing at tracks in 11 states during 1952.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Elks Lauded at Memorial: Stressing the significance of friends remembering other friends, Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh lauded Elks for remembering their departed members at the annual memorial service of Gettysburg Lodge, 1045, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, held at the lodge room Sunday afternoon.

Rufus H. Bushman, exalted ruler of the lodge, presided.

District Attorney John P. Butt eulogized W. W. Cleaver, of Gettysburg, only member of the lodge who died during the year.

The Rev. Howard S. Fox gave the invocation and the benediction. The Gettysburg college quartet sang several appropriate selections.

Woman Breaks Leg: Mrs. Clarence Reinecker suffered a fracture of the left leg near the ankle when she made a misstep and fell on a stairway in the Stallsmith building, Center Square, Saturday evening. She was admitted as a patient to the Warner hospital.

30-Hour Week Is Approved: Cincinnati, Nov. 29 (AP) — Under the leadership of President William Green, delegates to the national convention of the American Federation of Labor late Monday thundered their approval of a thirty-hour work week. The proposal met unanimous approval on roll call.

"We must let the world know we demand action in response to our appeal to reason or we will secure it through force if necessary," Green declared, in recommending adoption of the resolution for a six-hour day, five-day-week work schedule.

Second American Store Is Opened: Large crowds attended the informal inspection of Gettysburg's new grocery, fruit and fish store, the American store, in the Masonic temple building, Wednesday evening.

The store, the second to be opened in Gettysburg, by the American Stores Company, has been fully stocked, remodeled and placed in excellent condition for the new business. The crowd received souvenirs Wednesday evening. Thursday morning the new store was open for business.

The second American store is located in The Times building on Carlisle Street.

Nurse Weds Local Man: Miss Orilla E. Fritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Fritz, Chambersburg, and nurse at the Annie M. Wagner hospital here for five years, and Richard E. Dutta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor W. S. Dutta, Baltimore Street, were married in Washington Memorial chapel, Valley Forge, Thursday, by the Rev. Dr. W. Herbert Burke.

Give Recital: Dr. Carson P. Pringle, tenor, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. George Amick, contralto, of Gettysburg, were heard at a joint solo recital held at the home of Mrs. Mark K. Eckert, Springs Avenue, Saturday evening.

Mrs. S. F. Snyder, who was the accompanist, accompanies Mrs. Amick in broadcasting.

The program was presented under the auspices of the Women's Guild of Christ Lutheran church.

Local Boys Receive Letters: Four Gettysburg boys—George Pitzer, Earl Harbaugh, Weldon Plank and Harold Rummel—were awarded their football letters at a recent meeting of the newly formed Gettysburg academy athletic association. Twelve letters were awarded to the squad.

Manager Returns Here: Grayson Biesecker, formerly manager of the American store in Shillington, has been transferred to Gettysburg to assume the management of the recently opened American store in center square.

Fruit Farm Is Sold for $2,000: D. P. Polley, Fairfield, purchased the 76-acre fruit farm, known as the Warren Martin farm from B. E. Benner and Harry S. Stoner, executors of the estate of the late John Musselman, at public sale, Saturday afternoon, for $2,000.

The farm, located about a mile from Fairfield, has sixty acres in fruit, including apples, peaches and cherries.

No bids were received for the 154-

Today's Talk

WITH WHAT YOU HAVE

There is one thing about not being rich — you have what the rich rarely have. You have lots of wants! We never seem to get too old to have these. That is not saying, however, that we get these wants supplied to us. Many of them merely float around in our mind for years. But each one fulfilled over the years gives to us a welcome thrill.

I recall, as a boy, that I looked forward to the time when I could eat all the bananas my stomach could hold! It was a rare thing to afford more than an occasional one, even though the price then was about three for a nickel, but when the time arrived when I could afford to buy dozens of them at will, my appetite for bananas was gone! My want had died along the way.

That's the way it is with wants. We can have scores of them, but they stay up in the rafters of our mind, like pigeons in a barn flying out just for exercise! It's fun, though, to have wants. They keep us speculating and dreaming. It wouldn't be healthy for us to have no wants at all. We would lose incentive and interest.

No matter what our station in life, we should be happy over what blessings we have. We have far more than we stop to take into account. When we get into a complaining mood we ought to stop and take an inventory and note how many more blessings are ours than we realize. We should try and be happy with what we have. It isn't possessions that give us the greatest happiness or satisfaction. It is an appreciation for what we have. Others may have far less.

Thereau had next to nothing in possessions. He built his crude cabin on Walden Pond himself at a cost of less than fifty dollars. He once made the remark that he owned hundreds of acres of real estate — without ever having to touch a wheelbarrow to them! What he meant was that he looked upon those acres and enjoyed them without any ownership excepting that in his mind.

We can do more with what we have than we suspect. It's use that counts. The small home owner with beautiful reproductions of great works of art may appreciate that art more, and he may be a truer owner of the original than the millionaire who bought them. By taking advantage of all that we have, we keep gaining more!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Reliability". Protected, 1952, George Matthew Adams Service

"IKE WAVED AT ME!"
I like the pride of the little lad who stood with the throng to see
The General pass, then tol' his dad:
"Ike waved at me!"

A little boy in a teeming crowd
With a glorious memory
Boasting—with only a glimpse allowed—
"Ike waved at me!"

He took himself that wave of the hat
And it long will be
Before that boy will stop telling that:
"Ike waved at me!"

Though General, the honors that You've received
Time will never dim,
It should warm your heart that a boy believed
You waved at him.

GREEN FEED FOR WINTER EGGS

Several years ago the editor conducted a survey among owners of small poultry flocks to determine how feeds and feeding methods affected fall and winter egg production. By far the most outstanding fact established was this: Owners who fed no green vegetation suffered an unusually low rate of production and a high rate of flock mortality from such seasonal ills as respiratory ailments. What are the practical features of green feeds for winter eggs? What should or may the small flock owner feed for this purpose?

Of course, in order to compel hens to lay consistently from mid-autumn until the natural laying period of spring arrives it is necessary to stress three prominent truths — (1) Keep laying mash before them all the time; (2) Feed grain twice daily to control and regulate bodily weight; and (3) Round out a sound ration with necessary minerals and vitamins. But even this accepted ration is faulty without green feed. Apparently a hen must have the vitamins and minerals which green vegetation supplies to imitate the conditions she enjoys when she has access to the fresh grass of the range in late spring and early summer.

For example, nutritional rump, a common winter ailment, is often called vitamin A deficiency. Green feed is recommended to correct this condition as well as to prevent it. Vitamin B-1 deficiency is called polyneuritis. Here again green feed is needed to avoid the trouble as well as to curb it.

Gout in poultry is relieved by increasing the vitamin A content of the winter ration. And of course, green feed is one of the most liberal sources of this vitamin.

In addition to preventing or correcting these seasonal ills, green vegetation imparts general good health beyond the particular ailments it alleviates. Many suburban and farm owners of small flocks immediately ask the question — Where can a sustained supply of green vegetation be obtained all winter?

First, poultry owners should plan ahead for this important item by growing an extra crop of late cabbage to bury for all-winter feeding. Celery, lettuce, kale, parsley and the other so-called greens serve likewise. Because carrots are exceptionally rich in vitamin A and minerals, they should be grown and buried in late abundance solely for flock feeding.

Too, a late patch of winter rye should be seeded for the dual purpose of providing a winter cover for bare soils and to produce green materials to feed all winter. Wheat serves in the same manner. Both remain green, although covering with pine or other evergreen boughs in late fall will increase available top growth.

Alfalfa or clover should be cut when young and the hay cured with the leaves intact for winter feeding. Hens relish the bright green leaves even though the vegetation is dry.

Alfalfa leaf meal in the laying mash partly bridges this gap. Urban grocery stores throw away vast quantities of excellent the path to amity.

ELECTRICITY FOR PLANT BEDS

With the gradual disappearance of horses from modern life has come a mounting problem to farmers and gardeners in building and operating hotbeds. So scarce is horse manure for bed heating in many regions that readers report their inability to build artificially heated plant beds. The horse has actually been "traced out" of numerous communities and with him has disappeared the old reliable late winter and spring hotbed.

But with the loss there has been a corresponding recompense. As Dobbins moved out available electric lines have moved in, and the farmer and gardener may now take advantage of hotbeds heated by the more dependable and otherwise superior medium of electricity. No only is the electrically heated bed safer and better than manure-heated beds, but it is a permanent part of garden equipment ready to function at any time at the mere twist of a simple switch.

For the benefit of prospective builders of electrically heated beds the following general facts are offered:

It is possible to heat a small, snugly insulated bed with ordinary 25-watt inside-frosted bulbs suspended directly over the bed surface.

Permanent beds are heated with special cables which come in 60-foot lengths for use on a 120-volt system and 120-foot lengths for a 240-volt system. Cable lengths shorter than 60 feet are not recommended.

A 60-foot cable is intended to heat a two-sash bed — six by six feet or 36 square feet. This length cable is too large for a one-sash bed.

Sixteen 25-watt bulbs will heat a two-sash bed or eight such bulbs may be used in a one-sash bed.

Both types of bed permit control of temperature by built-in thermostats.

The latest in cable improvement is a plastic covering instead of lead. This, according to reports from users, is more pliable and suffers fewer damages in handling. It may even be used on or around exposed water pipes to prevent freezing in winter.

An electric hotbed may be built directly on the soil surface, preferably in a location amply protected from prevailing winds. The frame should be carefully banked with soil to prevent escape of heat.

Insure Your Family's Happiness

The head of a family has a great responsibility indeed, for on him rests the task of providing everything needed by his loved ones. A thoughtful husband and father will not let poor health deprive his family of the comforts of life. Insure your family's future by visiting your physician at regular intervals in order to prevent unforeseen illnesses. The happiness of your entire family may depend on your physical well being and foresight.

GRAND JURY HITS RED PROTECTION BY STATE DEPT.

NEW YORK (AP)—A critical federal grand jury and the State Department showed apparent disagreement today over just how much the department is doing to help ferret out American Reds on the United Nations headquarters staff.

The grand jury, in a report made here on Tuesday, said the State Department gave "disloyal officials a clean bill of health" in some of "the most flagrant and obvious cases of disloyalty."

The report also said the State Department "stymied" the panel's inquiry into the matter. On Tuesday one of the jury's members said there even appeared to be State Department pressure to have the report withheld.

Cite Infiltration Plan
The State Department, in a statement issued Tuesday night in Washington, said it had no authority over U. N. personnel but that it had drawn the attention of the U. N. to Americans whom it "believes to be Communists."

In reply to the jury's contention it withheld certain names of department officials who reviewed and cleared four of the cases, the department said it did so because questioning would have concerned confidential files.

The federal grand jury's report, handed up to Judge David N. Edelstein, said many disloyal Americans moved from one U. S. government post to another and finally infiltrated the U. N. as part

Littlestown

LITTLESTOWN — A Christmas party was featured at the December meeting of the officers and teachers of the Children's Sunday School Department of Redeemer's Reformed Church on Monday evening in the social hall of the church. The meeting opened with the group singing of Christmas carols with Miss Shirley Stonesifer as piano accompanist. The Scripture was read by the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, followed with a Christmas prayer repeated in unison.

The business period was in charge of the president, Mrs. John E. Stambaugh. Reports were presented by the secretary, Helen Jacobs, and the treasurer, Mrs. Donald C. Arbogast. Mrs. Stambaugh appointed a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for the organization and report at the January meeting. This committee is composed of Mrs. Kenneth K. Krohn, Mrs. James R. Reindollar and Mrs. Paul Luckenbaugh. It was announced that the annual Christmas program to be given by the Sunday School children will be presented on Sunday, December 21, 7:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary. The children will receive their annual Christmas treats following the Sunday School hour on Sunday, December 14 from 3 to 5 p.m. in the church social hall. A program is being planned and refreshments will be served. The Rev. Mr. Reynolds then read a slate of officers as prepared for the entire Sunday of a "definite planned pattern." Making its report on the last day of its nine-month term, the grand jury urged that a new panel be appointed to carry on its work.

School for 1953. It was announced that, as planned, the Children's Department had made contributions for the Thanksgiving baskets for the shut-ins of the congregation and the baskets had been delivered. It was decided that two gifts will be purchased for Christmas for the Adams County Child Welfare Association. The Beginners Department, Helen Jacobs, superintendent, will purchase a gift for a girl and the Primary Department, Mrs. Robert H. Thimomas, superintendent, will purchase a boy's gift. It was planned to hold the next meeting on Monday, January 12, one week in advance of the regular date, due to the community preaching mission. Mrs. Donald C. Arbogast and Mrs. John D. Basehoar comprise the entertainment and refreshment committee for the January meeting to be held at the church. The guest package was contributed by Mrs. John Stambaugh and received by Mrs. Paul Luckenbaugh.

The Christmas party was held during the social hour, with an exchange of gifts. Group games were enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert H. Thomas and Miss Shirley Stonesifer. In preparation for Friday, the first Friday of the month, confessions will be heard in St. Aloysius Church this afternoon from 3 to 4 and 7 to 7:30 p.m. Mass on Friday will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. and Holy Communion will be distributed outside of mass at 5:45 and 7 a.m. Saturday mass at 7:30 a.m. with evening devotions in honor of Our Lady of Fatima, at 7 p.m.

Doug Dickey, Florida quarterback, netted minus six yards from scrimmage in his first four games yet scored two touchdowns on quarterback sneaks.

"City" Not Found On Missouri Map

CARSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—You won't find Carson City on the map but if you drive down Missouri Highway 21 it's hard to miss despite its lack of people.

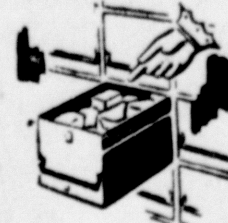

Metal signs boldly proclaim the unincorporated "city" with its population of three. Actually it is a restaurant run by Lester Carstens, 48, just 34 miles south of St. Louis.

Carstens fought as an amateur under the ring name of "Kit Carson," and the name stuck when he entered business. He formed the "city" easily last December by simply placing a large sign on the building and smaller signs at the entrances.

Carstens said some neighbors have indicated they would like him to extend his "city limits."

TIRED U.N. TURNS TO TUNISIA'S INDEPENDENCE

The U. N. Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee, weary from its long debate on Korea, turned today to another bitter dispute—over Tunisian demands for independence.

Winding up consideration for the moment of the Korean problem, the Assembly yesterday entrusted its president, Lester Pearson of Canada, with the task of sending the overwhelmingly approved Indian peace plan to Red China and North Korea.

Although the delegates coupled with it a plea for quick acceptance by the Pyongyang and Peking governments, little hope was held that the two Red nations would okay the proposal to let the U. N.

eventually take over prisoners of war who refuse to go home—some issue blocking peace talks at Panmunjom. Both governments as well as Russia have already condemned the plan.

Host of Problems

Faced with a host of other problems and still more meetings on Korea—the Assembly would have to discuss even a rejection of the plan—the U. N. Steering Committee began working on a new schedule for the Assembly.

It was expected to provide a Christmas recess and a resumption of work sometime in February, well after the inauguration of President-elect Eisenhower. The Assembly session originally was scheduled to end Dec. 20.

The Tunisian question—second item on the Political Committee's agenda—is the first of two moves aimed at French colonial rule by the Asian-Arab bloc on the committee. The second will be a drive supporting independence for Morocco.

Both problems were forced on the agenda over die-hard French opposition and both promise to drag out in bitter wrangling. France has maintained angrily that her administration of both North African protectorates is her own internal business and no concern of the U. N.

The Arab-Asian bloc resolution on Tunisia contends France is ignoring human and political rights in that country. It demands that France restore civil liberties and resume negotiations with Tunisian nationalists under a three-member U. N. good offices committee.

Chuck Maloy Of Holy Cross Leads All-East Backfield

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—Charles (Chuck) Maloy of Holy Cross, a record-setting quarterback, headed a versatile backfield named today on the Associated Press' All-East football team.

Completing the offensive striking unit with Maloy, who set six Eastern records this year, were Richard Clasby, Harvard's triple-threat halfback; Villanova's Gene Filipski, one of the Nation's leading ball-carriers; and Homer Smith, Princeton's plunging fullback.

The team was picked after consultation with Ivy League and other Eastern coaches.

4 From Princeton
Princeton placed four men on the two-platoon, 22-man squad, more than any other institution. Twelve schools in all were represented.

There were three repeaters. In addition to Maloy, making their second appearance on the team were two double-service ends, Frank McPhee of Princeton and Ed Bell of Pennsylvania.

Maloy, a 185-pound T-tactician from Rochester, N. Y., set season records for offensive plays, 346; passes thrown, 288; and completions, 126. His career marks of 304 completions in 689 attempts for 4,074 yards also were high in the East.

Led In Offense
Maloy also led the region in total offense for the year with 1,589 yards, followed by Clasby, with 1,474. Clasby was second to Bucknell's Brad Myers in rushing with 950 yards.

Filipski, a slashing ball-carrier, racked up 889 yards rushing while Smith, who set an individual record of 273 for one game against Harvard, had a season's total of 821 yards on the ground.

Yale's Ed Woodsum, who caught 11 touchdowns passes for another Eastern record, was bracketed with Columbia's Al Ward on the flanks of the offensive line. At tackles were a pair of fast giants, Villanova's Bill Hegarty and Pittsburgh's Eldred Kraemer, while the guard spots went to Holy Cross' Chester Millett and Syracuse's William Skyrinskus. The offensive center was James Dooley of Penn State.

Other Choices
McPhee and Bell flanked a defensive line that had Syracuse's 256-pound Bob Fleck and Penn's 205-pound John Shanafelt at tackles, Navy's Steve Eisenhauer and Princeton's veteran Bradley Glass at guards.

Linebacking duties went to Pete Schoderbek of Penn State and Joe Schmidt of Pittsburgh, who were aided in the defensive secondary by Joe Fortunato of Yale, Al Simmons of Colgate and Ed Jannotta of Princeton.

Pennsylvanians receiving honorable mention:

Ends—Jesse Arnette, Penn State; Owen Congan, Holy Cross; Frank Barnes, Villanova; Paul Mueller, Delaware.

Tackles—Pasquale Sarnese, Temple; Frank Kirby, Bucknell; Bob Evans, Penn.

Guards—Tom Fitzpatrick, Villanova; Don Barney, Penn State; John Chirrona, Bucknell.

Center—William Grim, Bucknell. Backs—Brad Myers, Bucknell; Robert Haner, Villanova; George Bosseler, Penn; Joe Varatis, Penn.

NEW OXFORD HI LOSES OPENER

New Oxford High opened its cage season Wednesday evening by dropping a 47-20 decision to the strong Scotland cagers on the winners' floor.

Scotland led throughout and held a 23-8 advantage at half time.

Richstein secured three of the New Oxford field goals.

Next Tuesday New Oxford will play at Westminster.

Baltimore Given Offer On Pro Grid

BALTIMORE (AP)—It will take a top-notch job of salesmanship—a quarter-million dollars worth of season tickets—to bring a professional football team back to Baltimore.

Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League yesterday explained the deal that will produce a franchise and a squad, the Dallas Texans. Bell told a news conference that the tickets would have to be sold by Jan. 22. It probably will take 15,000 season ticket sales to raise the $250,000 needed to close the deal.

Cage Clinic Given By GHS Students

A basketball clinic was presented by the Physical Education Department students during the assembly period Wednesday morning at Gettysburg High School.

The presentation showed briefly the policy followed by coaches throughout the pre-season drills in forming and organizing their teams. At the conclusion of "pre-season drill" part of the program, teams were sent through a short scrimmage.

WILL TELECAST BOXING BOUTS ON SATURDAY NIGHT

NEW YORK (AP)—A wide open scramble for boxing talent, a scarce commodity these days, will begin in January when a fourth network will start telecasting fights every Saturday night.

The American Broadcasting Co. stepped into the picture by closing a deal with Bayuk Cigars, Inc., for the Saturday night fights, starting Jan. 24. Thus live boxing shows will be beamed to some parts of the country on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights. The Saturday bout will be telecast at 9 a.m. The others start at 10 p.m.

Some cities like New York already get TV boxing every night of the week except Sunday.

Mixed Opinions
Word of the new deal, said to be a "2½ million dollar package," was greeted with mixed feelings on Cauliflower Row. Some veterans said it will give fighters and managers a bargaining point and a chance to make money. Others said it was just another nail in the sport's coffin and that it will kill off some more of the small clubs around the country.

Even before the deal was closed, members of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission petitioned the National Boxing Association to refuse licenses for the Saturday night program unless Philadelphia is "blackballed out." The commission wants to protect the Cambria Athletic Club, a small club staging boxing shows on Saturdays.

"The Cambria Club has kept boxing alive in Philadelphia for years and we are not inclined to let them down," said Commissioner O. D. Gross.

The cigar company will have its bouts supplied by Famous Sports Enterprises, Inc., a newly created organization headed by Ray Arcel, well known fight manager and trainer.

The Saturday bouts will be held in such cities as Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh. None of the shows are planned for New York. The city in which the fight is staged will be "blackballed out" for that one night. No sponsor will go for any TV deal which blacks out New York's huge population and market.

The sponsor will put up about $9,000 each week, it was learned. This sum will be added to the net receipts brought in at the gate. The fighters will get whatever they canicker for, 25 per cent for each, or more. That will depend on the boxing and drawing ability of the fighter.

County Man Will Reopen Greenhouse

Glenn M. Musselman Jr., Orrtanna R. 2, will reopen his Greenhouse at Cashion, December 10, after two years service with the 11th Airborne Division, U. S. Army. Corporal Musselman was stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky., during most of the time he was in the army. Later he had been on maneuvers at Camp Irwin, Calif. He was discharged November 26.

Mr. Musselman is married to the former Miss Miriam Keeney, daughter of Walter A. Keeney, 121 E. Broadway, and the late Mrs. Keeney. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn M. Musselman, Cashion. Mr. and Mrs. Musselman will reside in the Trostle Apartments, Chambersburg St.

CHURCH WOMEN

Mrs. Brown reported on the Thanksgiving Dinner served to the Annie Danner Club by her committee.

New China Ordered

A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. Richard Kammerer for a spoon presented to her new daughter. Mrs. Hammond reported that new china had been ordered, and would soon be in use. It was reported that many cans of fruit juice were donated by members of the parish for the Episcopal Home at Shippensburg, in addition to many jigsaw puzzles.

Mrs. Buehler is taking orders for the official church calendar. The auxiliary decided to sponsor a parish supper on Shrove Tuesday, February 17, followed by a white elephant auction. Mrs. Noble, chairman of the Christian Mis-

PHIL MALONEY RINGING BELL FOR PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Shy Phil Maloney wanted to be an accountant—decided on hockey—and now is ringing the bell for the Calder Cup Champion Pittsburgh Hornets.

And at the moment, Coach King Clancy of the American Hockey League title holders is breathing a little easier. His team, after a poor start, is only three points behind the pace setting Cleveland Barons.

Maloney, a 170-pound center, was a big question mark in Clancy's plans for the current season because of injuries last year. But the 25-year-old Canadian reported in top shape and since the 1952-53 campaign started he's been short of terrific. In 19 games, he's scored four goals and 15 assists for 19 points, second highest on the squad.

"A Coach's Dream"
Clancy figures it's only a matter of weeks before Maloney heads back to the National League, the major league of professional hockey. And the fast-talking mentor of the Hornets isn't one to toss superlatives around with reckless abandon.

"He's come up in leaps and bounds," Clancy said. "What a kid! He eats and sleeps hockey. He's a coach's dream and an example for other players to follow. In my book he's having the best year of his career and I've known him since he played junior hockey. If he keeps up the present pace he's a sure bet to be back up (in the majors) after the first of the year."

Started With Bears
Maloney broke into professional hockey with the Hershey (Pa.) Bears in 1948. He scored 3 goals and 50 assists for 80 points to grab the team's Rookie of the Year honors.

That prompted the parent club—the Boston Bruins—to bring him up the next year. He played in all 70 games, scoring 15 goals and 31 assists.

The Bruins traded him to Toronto in 1950 along with Fern Flaman and Ken Smith for Wild Bill Ezinicki and Vic Lynn. Ezinicki now is a teammate and almost a sure bet to be called up by the injury-riddled parent club.

In the only game in the league last night, Pittsburgh defeated Syracuse 2-1 in a sudden death overtime finish.

Two Bullet Soccer Players Honored

Gettysburg College has placed two players on the all-southwestern conference soccer team of the Middle Atlantic States Conference.

Gerry Greth was named to the right fullback post and Roger Bray was placed at outside left. On the second team, Frank McElroy was inside right and George Heacock was center forward.

Gettysburg placed third in the southwestern league of the conference. The league standing follows:

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pts.
F. and M.	5	0	0	10
Johns Hopkins	4	1	0	8
Gettysburg	3	1	1	7
Drexel	3	2	0	6

TRA Selects List Of '52 Champions

NEW YORK (AP)—The Charlan Stable's Crafty Admiral, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Next Move and Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Oedipus were named today to complete the list of 1952 divisional champions selected by the Thoroughbred Racing Associations.

Crafty Admiral was chosen champion older horse; Next Move was voted best older mare, while Oedipus received the unprecedented honor of being named champion steeplechaser for the third year in a row.

The divisional champions were named as the TRA met here for its 11th annual convention, and from them will come the No. 1 horse—American champion—to be announced at the annual dinner tonight.

WALLACE WINS WITH KNOCKOUT

DETROIT (AP)—Coley Wallace looks like Joe Louis. And he ends his fights in Joe Louis style. But in between the start and the finish Coley doesn't always fight in the Louis pattern.

For instance, last night the 199-pound Wallace dropped 177-pound Bob Dunlap for a count of eight in the first round and stopped him at 46 seconds of the sixth round with a flashing right to the head. But in between, Wallace was never as hungry, never as stalking as the great heavyweight champion of former years.

In fact, the blood-splattered Dunlap jarred Wallace with constant lefts to the body and head in the second round of their nationally-televized fight.

And he fought Wallace on even terms through the third, fourth and fifth rounds. Then came the sudden end as Dunlap reeled to the floor with blood pouring out of his nose and mouth.

Referee Lou Handler waved his arms to signal an end to the fight, which was watched by 1,447 fans, some of whom paid a total of $2,066.60.

FAVORS BAN ON TV IN BASEBALL WITHOUT SPLIT

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—President Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals said today he believed the National League should ban television from all parks for 1953 and reiterated his threat to refuse clubs to telecast their home games with St. Louis unless the Cards received a share of the TV receipts.

"There is no question in my mind that television is hurting the attendance," declared the Redbird boss 24 hours before the start of the major league meetings. "However, to satisfy the skeptics, I suggest we ban video for one year to determine once and for all whether it hurts or helps baseball."

"Right now," Saigh added, "There are no agreements between clubs regarding television. The Cardinals are going to adopt a listening policy at the major league meetings starting Friday, hoping a proper solution will be proposed. But if there is going to be television at our parks, the Cardinals will insist on a pro rata share of the TV receipts."

Saigh, a persistent foe of baseball telecasts, is convinced that television not only cuts deeply into attendances but breaks up the balance of power throughout the league and threatens to wreck the poorer clubs. The Cards, who own the largest radio network in baseball, a chain consisting of 92 stations, do not telecast their home games.

TIGERS, BROWNS TRADE TRUCKS, GROTH, NEIMAN

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—In the fourth major Detroit-St. Louis deal in a year, the Tigers today traded pitchers Virgil Trucks and Hal White and center fielder Johnny Groth to the Browns for left fielder Bob Nieman, second baseman Owen Friend and catcher-outfielder J. W. Porter.

The swap, involving some $250,000 in player talent, did not include any cash according to Rudy Schaffer, Browns general manager. Trucks, a 33-year-old righthander, pitched two no-hitters in 1952—against Washington in May and the New York Yankees in August—but wound up with a 5-19 record.

Nieman Leads List
Groth, 26, a Detroit regular since 1949, hit 284 in 141 games and White, a 33-year-old relief pitcher had a 1-8 record in 41 games.

The most important St. Louis player involved was Nieman, 25, a rookie sensation with a .289 batting average, 18 homers and 74 runs batted in. The right-handed hitter hit two straight homers against Boston in his major league debut, Sept. 14, 1951.

Porter, used both as a catcher and outfielder, received a $65,000 bonus from the Chicago White Sox as a free agent when he entered pro ball. Last season the 19-year-old prospect hit .250 for the Browns after spending most of the season at Memphis and Colorado Springs, two White Sox farms.

Wanted Porter
The Tigers will have to wait a week or so for Friend, 25, to be discharged from military service. He was the Browns' regular second baseman in 1950, hitting .237 in 119 games.

At first glance, it appeared that the Browns had the best of the latest trade, acquiring a starting pitcher in Trucks and a regular center fielder in Groth for one proven big leaguer—Nieman. However, the Tigers were reported hot after Porter, who has promise of becoming a future star.

Five Warrior Gridders Named To First And Second South Penn All-Conference Teams

Gettysburg High School captured the lion's share of first and second team selections for the 1952 South Penn All-Conference football teams announced today and chosen by the South Penn Sportswriters' Association and coaches.

Three Warriors were named to the first team. James Skinner, end; Bobby Miller and Marlin Fiscel, backs, while John Carter, guard, and Dick Ray, tackle, were chosen for the second team.

Skinner Singularly Honored
Skinner's choice gives him the singular honor of having been chosen two straight years—at different positions. Last year he was named as tackle and nailed down the end post this year, a position to which he was switched this year by Coach Howard Shoemaker.

Miller was a second team choice last year. He and Skinner led the South Penn scoring most of the season and finished with 36 points each, being edged out by Cypress and Smith of Carlisle who each tabbed 42.

A year ago "Skip" Fiscel gained honorable mention but his punting, passing and general all-around work gained him first-string honors this year.

Richard "Gussie" Dayhoff was the only other Warrior player to draw honors, gaining honorable mention for a guard position.

Cypress Unanimous Choice
Richard Cypress, Carlisle's speedy back, received top honors by receiving the maximum number of votes possible, 45, and gained the honor of honorary captainship of the dream team.

The only other repeater from the 1951 first team in addition to Skinner is Paul Carson, Waynesboro's fine wingman.

Hershey High's champions copped the most nominations with a total of 10, two being chosen for the first team, one for the second team while seven gained honorable mentions.

Youngest player on the squad is Earl Kohlhaas, Mechanicsburg's husky 180-pound center, who is but 14 years of age and a member of the freshman class.

As might be expected seniors dominated all selections. However, there are five juniors on the first team—Kemble and Alger, Hershey; Corwell, Chambersburg; Carson, Waynesboro, and Alexander, Mechanicsburg. The second team is composed of eight seniors, two juniors and a freshman.

MOUNTS JOLT SHIPPENSBURG

Mt. St. Mary's notched its second straight basketball victory Wednesday evening by defeating the Shippensburg State Teachers College dribblers 64-58 at Emmitsburg.

The Mounts used their fast break effectively, particularly in the third quarter when they overcame a 34-32 deficit at half time to take a 48-43 lead.

With a 10-point lead at 59-49, Coach Bill Clarke's Marylanders put on the "freeze" act in the waning minutes.

On Friday the Mounts play a conference game at Hamden-Sydney and on Saturday conclude a two-day jaunt at Virginia Medical College.

Back, Four Linemen Added To Blue Roster

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The addition of a powerful fullback and four linemen brought the Blue roster up to 22—only two shy of full strength for the Dec. 27 gridiron meeting with the Grays here.

Check Wren, Northwestern's leading ground gainer in 1951, will carry the mail for the Yank forces. Wren also doubles on defense for the Wildcats.

Added to the Blue forward wall were Bob Smith, 210-pound Penn State center, and Joe Bozek, Pittsburgh's 210-pound defensive end.

The signing of William Bruner, Purdue tackle, and William Cockley, guard for the Shippensburg, Pa., Teachers, were announced earlier by Blue-Gray headquarters.

The University of Texas scored 181 points in its first seven football games this season. That's just one less than the 1951 team made in a full season.

SPRINGERS BOW TO ST. MARY'S

The York Spring High School boys suffered their third straight loss Wednesday evening when they bowed 40-35 to St. Mary's Catholic of Hagerstown on the Springers' floor.

After holding a 21-19 lead at half time, York Springs weakened in the final two periods. Gallagher looped 20 points for the winners while Williams connected for 12 for York Springs.

In the preliminary game the York Springs girls lost to St. Mary's for the second time in a row 57-36. Smith's 31 tallies for the Hagerstown outfit featured the game. Wonders and Weigle looped 16 and 14, respectively for the losers.

York Springs will play at High-spire Friday night.

Waynesboro, Shippensburg Will Be Non-Title Competitors In South Penn Loop Next Two Years

Only six of the eight members of the South Penn Football Conference will be eligible for title honors in 1953 and 1954.

That situation resulted from action taken at the winter meeting of the conference held Wednesday at the Howard Johnson Restaurant.

a price list in 1950 the same as National Fruit Products Co.—located only 30 feet away across a Winchester street—because Shenandoah needed more apples due to a plant expansion.

Nearly 80 per cent of the apples purchased by Shenandoah before 1950 were grown by persons financially interested in the plant, Arthur said.

C. E. Johnson of Sperryville, an apple grower and member of the Virginia Apple Commission, testified he was a member of Appalachian Apple Service, Inc.—a combination of fruit growers charged in the price-fixing allegation—because of his service on the Virginia commission.

Alleged In 1950
The price list issued by apple processors prior to the 1950 season contained the prices paid for his apples, Johnson said. The government has charged that the price-fixing occurred in 1950.

In addition to Appalachian Apple Service and the two Winchester firms, Shenandoah and National, concerns charged in the complaint are C. H. Musselman Co. of Biglerville, Pa., Knouse Foods Cooperative, Inc., of Peach Glen, Pa., and Bowman Apple Products Co., Inc., of Mt. Jackson.

baseball schedule and 1953 track program. It was revealed that the annual conference track meet will be held either at Carlisle High School or at Gettysburg College.
A lengthy discussion was held but no action was taken on the type of basketball to be used by the league during the coming season. A decision may be reached at the District 3 PIAA meet today at Hershey.
Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, Prof. Guile W. Levever, Fred G. Troxell and Howard Shoemaker represented Gettysburg High school at the afternoon and were joined for the evening session by George Forney, Ross Sachs and Luther I. Sachs Jr.

Waynesboro and Shippensburg are the schools which will be non-title competitors for the next two years. Each were permitted to drop two schools from their schedules. Waynesboro has dropped Hanover and Mechanicsburg while Shippensburg has dropped Hershey and Carlisle. A provision in the changes had been that the two schools would be required to drop different schools from their schedules.

The new league setup was an outgrowth of a proposal by Waynesboro and Shippensburg that the conference be enlarged with competition being classified into Class A and B leagues. Waynesboro and Shippensburg have been consistent tailenders in the conference for years and had sought enlargement of the loop to include a number of other schools in this area.
After considerable discussion at the afternoon session the above solution was decided upon and accepted by the Franklin County schools.

Issues Statement
Mark Burkhardt, Carlisle, conference president, presided at the afternoon and evening sessions. He stated, "Due to the flux in present day school setups and various jointures the conference felt that expansion would be unwise at this time."

The championship football trophy, emblematic of the 1952 football title, was presented to Hershey High School at the afternoon session and was accepted on behalf of the school by Ed Fornwalt, Hershey coach.
Routine business was transacted at the dinner-session in the evening.

Approve Schedule
The basketball schedule for 1953-54 was approved as well as the 1953

Expects Agreement For Scranton Club

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The president of the Class A Eastern Baseball League says he believes the Scranton, Pa., club will reach a working agreement with one of two major league teams.

Tommy Richardson, the loop prexy, in making that statement here yesterday during the minor league baseball meeting, declined to elaborate further on the Scranton situation.

Richardson, who presided at a six-club league meeting, held the Scranton and Hartford, Conn., proxies for the session. He said Hartford—stranded when the Boston Braves decided to make a working agreement with Jacksonville, Fla., in the South Atlantic League—would be left open for the present.
Richardson said he expected to have the situation "ironed out" before the Jan. 31 meeting of league and club officials. Clubs represented at yesterday's meeting were Reading and Williamsport, Pa.; and Albany, Binghamton, Elmira, and Schenectady, N. Y.

Warriors Meet Hagerstown Cagers Here Friday Night

Basketball takes over the spotlight here Friday evening when George Forney's Gettysburg High cagers open their season with Hagerstown High in a double-header. The jayvee teams will meet at 8:45 o'clock.

There are four lettermen on the Warrior squad and they are being counted upon heavily to lead the squad to a successful campaign. The veterans include "Skip" Fiscel, sharp-shooting guard, and a six-footer, John Carter, 5-11, forward, who specializes under the boards; Jim Skinner, 6-2, husky pivot man, and Bob Hixon, 6, hard working guard.

Gussie Dayhoff, 5-11, and George Penn, 5-8, at present lead the other candidates in the battle for varsity berths. Bobby Rohrbaugh has improved greatly over last season and is certain to break into the lineup. The determined and tireless efforts of Jay Sixeas, a senior, is paying dividends which will find him gaining considerable duty.

Coach Lauds Spirit
Completing the 13-man squad will be Paul Ketterman, Jay Schmitt, Peter Baughman, George Bender and John Beagle.
Coach Forney said today the squad has the finest spirit and cooperation of any squad he had. He has worked with since his return from Navy duty in World War 2 and he is banking on that spirit to carry his team through where its physical equipment is lacking.

The jayvee squad, which is again coached by Ross Sachs, includes the following: Fred Baker, Stanton Musser, Daniel Roth, Albert Sterner, Roger Zeien, all juniors; Geoffrey Langsam, Ronnie Williams, David Gifford, Robert Weikert, James Everly, Richard Pennington, Ted Crouse, David Thomas and Le Dane Swope, sophomores.
The Warrior varsity is expecting a stiff battle in its clash with the Owls who have plenty of height and speed.
New scholastic one rules will followed for the first time. A "one-and-one situation" in foul shooting will be observed. It means that a bonus free throw has been added this year to all single fouls. There has been no change where a player is in the act of shooting — if the goal is good, the player gets one shot, and if not good, he gets two.
But during the first 29 minutes, fouls, which last year would have awarded a player one shot, now present the one-and-one situation. If he misses the first shot, the bonus attempt is awarded. If the player makes the first attempt, the bonus is disregarded. Exceptions include multiple fouls, double dunks and flagrant fouls.
In the last three minutes the one-and-one is laid aside and all fouls award two shots. The practice of taking the ball out of bounds has been eliminated.

No Amount Of Yearning Will Bring Back The Vest

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Many a stubborn male sighs for the return of the faithful vest.

But yearning isn't going to bring back the vest anymore than it will restore the dodo bird or revive vaudeville.

This is on the word of Spencer Witty, vice president of one of the Nation's largest clothing manufacturing firms.

"The vest is finished," he said cheerfully. "It is very hard to get a vest today except contrasting or tattersall vests."

Some Conservatives Do
"Suits now are priced for two pieces—the coat and pants. If the vest reappeared it would cause terrible repercussions. I doubt if the public would pay an extra 15 per cent just to get a vest."

Witty said the ordinary man was happy to get rid of vests and that only sentimentalists and "older, conservative business men" still want them. When I asked him for examples, he said:

"Well, John Foster Dulles does wear a vest and Dean Acheson doesn't."

Double-breasted Suit Going
Taking a squint at current fashion trends for the vestless male, Witty also predicted the decline and fall of the double-breasted suit.

"It's poison now," he said. "Fat men still cling to the double-breasted suit in the fond belief that it helps hide their bay window and makes them appear slimmer."

"Pure illusion," said Witty ruthlessly. "They might as well face the facts—the double-breasted suit has had its day and is now on the way out."

Somehow I began to feel a bit sad. The vest gone, the double-breasted suit going—could anything else depart from a man's wardrobe and still leave him with anything except a loin cloth?

"Well, yes," said Witty heartily. "The bold look and the natural look are now definitely out, as far as the better-dressed man is concerned."

Another nice prospect is that there is no immediate danger of men's suits vying with peacocks or the rainbow.

"Colors are going to be conservative," Witty summed up. "Flannels will be very big, and the glen plaid is very important again. Quite a revival there."

"Well, in that case," I began hopefully, "maybe the vest will—"

"No vest," said Witty with cold finality.

No Success Yet In Cross-Breeding

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—There isn't any such thing as a cross between a chicken and a turkey, says E. W. Glazener, professor of poultry genetics at North Carolina State College school of agriculture.

What farmers are probably raising when they speak of their "Turkchens" is the Naked Neck fowl, known variously as the Transylvanian Naked Neck, Bare Neck and Hackleless. The breed has no feathers on most of the neck, and the area of skin lacking feathers becomes loose, thickened and deep red in color at times, he says.

BIRDIE MUST HAVE TIPPED LEWIS ON WAGES

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis is hardly the man to go scrambling out of the country when his miners' wages are at stake and he might have to call a strike if they didn't get what they wanted.

Yet, there he was off in South America when the announcement came last night that President Truman had overruled his top stabilization officials to give Lewis' coal miners the $1.90 a day pay raise they wanted.

Roger Putnam, the economic stabilizer, broke the news to reporters at 6 p.m. Under questioning, Putnam said the President had reached his decision just a week ago.

Maybe A Birdie

Since that would have been a couple of days before Lewis took off southward, it's possible he knew what the President's decision was. How he knew it, if he knew it, was not disclosed. Maybe a birdie told him.

But the thundering Lewis, who supported the Democrats in the presidential election, has never been very uncomfortable under government wage controls. In fact, he's made out dandy.

On Jan. 18, 1951, Lewis and the coal mine owners agreed on a wage increase of $1.60 a day for the miners. Eight days later the government froze all wages and prices.

Got Official Blessing

But the government sent Lewis on his way with official blessing, deciding he could keep his raise all right since he had obtained it before the freeze went in. But it had a say on all raises agreed upon after the freeze date.

This fall Lewis reached another agreement with the mine owners, giving his miners a boost of $1.90. But this time Lewis couldn't get it, or so it was thought, unless the Wage Stabilization Board approved.

Meanwhile, on Oct. 13 Lewis and his miners decided to support the Democrats in the presidential campaign of Gov. Stevenson although Lewis' relations with Truman until

Bronze Age Relics Found In Ireland

ROSSLARE HARBOR, Ireland (AP)—What may prove to be the largest concentration of late bronze age (500 B. C. lake dwellings in Europe outside Switzerland) has been uncovered at Lough Gara, County Roscommon, Ireland.

So far, 22 of these crannogs, or artificial islands where early men made their homes for safety, have been found. Also brought to light are bronze rings, tools and pots.

The first discovery was made last summer, when the Irish government's scheme for draining Lough Gara had been under way for 10 months. A wooden dugout canoe was found in the River Boyle near the lake outlet. A perforated stone sinker for fishing was also found.

Experts say that pottery found at Lough Gara has definite connections in Scotland and in Yorkshire, England, and is believed to represent folk migration from the North European plains to the British Isles.

In Cretaceous times the temperature of the earth seems to have been remarkably uniform and life typical of tropic and temperature zones was found as far north as Greenland.

then had been less than cozy.

Two Years Of Stabilization

A few days later the Wage Stabilization Board made up its mind that the miners, under the wage control program, were entitled to no more than $1.50 a day.

For a week the coal miners went on strike. This was late October. Winter was approaching, so was the election. Truman called Lewis and Harry M. Moses, representing the mine owners, to the White House where he promised them fair treatment. Lewis called off the strike.

Lewis and Moses appealed to Putnam to overrule the wage board. Putnam wouldn't. Neither would Henry M. Fowler, the mobilization boss. So Truman stepped in and gave Lewis what he wanted.

The $1.90 a day this time, plus the $1.60 in January, 1951, gives Lewis' miners a total daily increase of $3.50 a day in less than two years under wage stabilization.

MAKE PROGRESS IN PAYING FOR 10 TOLL BRIDGES

HARRISBURG (P)—The commonwealth has reached the two-thirds mark in paying off 10 toll bridges it purchased from private owners in 1949 and 1950.

The State Highways Department disclosed today it has collected a net of $4,388,465 in tolls since the spans were purchased. The state paid $6,474,605 for nine of the spans. The 10th, the Walnut Street Bridge in Harrisburg, is still in litigation.

"A lot of motorists are wondering when these bridges will be free," Highways Secretary E. L. Schmidt told a newsman. "That's hard to say until the Walnut St. Bridge litigation is disposed of."

Biggest Money-maker

Schmidt hinted, however, that the bridges will be toll-free earlier than original estimates. The first estimate was 1957.

The Market St. Bridge in Harrisburg is still the big money-maker. As of Oct. 31 its net income was $1,589,157. That's nearly the revenue from the remaining spans combined. Private cars pay a five cent toll.

Daily traffic on the Market St. bridge is about 21,000. The department noted, however, the count is far under the 33,400 vehicles that used the bridge daily two years ago prior to construction of a free bridge across the Susquehanna River at Harrisburg.

Income Dwindling

The Walnut St. Bridge traffic is also suffering from inroads of the free bridge. Income on that span has dwindled to less than $3,000 a day and is continuing to decrease.

Owners of the Walnut St. Bridge claimed the amount offered by the state is less than its worth and the matter is in the hands of viewers appointed by the Dauphin County Court.

Meanwhile, the Highways Department is absorbing the cost of maintaining the bridges out of normal department allocations. Repairs, new floors, resurfacing, painting and similar maintenance is paid from these allocations.

"This relieves the toll bridge fund of these costs and will result in earlier free bridges on the highways of the commonwealth," Schmidt said.

Net income to date from the other spans: Clark's Ferry, $426.

Sheriff's Sale

IN PURSUANCE of a Writ of LEVARI FACIAS issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Adams County, and to me directed, will be exposed to Public Sale on SATURDAY, the 13th day of December, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at the Court House in the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pa., the following Real Estate, viz:

On the North by Rinehart,
On the South by Trone,
On the East by Public Road,
On the West by Sponseller;
and being one lot of ground in said Township.

Seized and taken into execution as the property of Laura Smith Estate and to be sold by me

DORSEY J. SCHULTZ, Sheriff
15th, 1952.
Ten per cent of all sales by the Sheriff payable immediately after sale; if same is not complied with property will be resold.

Jessup Quits Job On January 19

WASHINGTON (P)—Dr. Philip C. Jessup, State Department trouble shooter and prime target of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), is leaving government service the day before the Republicans take over.

The White House Tuesday made public Jessup's letter of resignation as ambassador-at-large, dated Oct. 16 and effective Jan. 19, as well as President Truman's letter of acceptance praising the retiring diplomat for his service.

Jessup will return to the Columbia University faculty, from which he took leave in 1948 to accept appointment as a deputy delegate to the United Nations.

HOUSEWIFE TO BE SENTENCED IN GIRL'S DEATH

NEWARK, N. J. (P)—A plump, 37-year-old housewife will be sentenced Dec. 17 for manslaughter in the strangling death of a four-year old girl.

The woman, Mrs. Annie de Nike—herself the mother of a three-year old daughter—pleaded guilty Tuesday to manslaughter before Essex County Judge Joseph E. Conlon.

E. George Meyer, assistant prosecutor, recommended that a murder indictment against Mrs. De Nike be reduced to the lesser charge of manslaughter because, he said, the state would find it difficult to prove "intent to kill."

Mrs. De Nike faces a possible 10-year prison sentence.

She had been accused of strangling to death Mary Louise Wargo, the blue-eyed, blonde daughter of a neighbor, in a fit of anger last May 27. The little girl's body was found wrapped in a sheet in a vacant lot.

Mrs. De Nike was a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wargo, parents of the slain child. She admitted throttling Mary Louise in her home when the girl and her own daughter, Doris, got into a scuffle.

Blame Leaking Gas For Fire Fatal To 7

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (P)—Firemen today blamed leaking propane gas for a raging fire that flashed through a frame dwelling and wiped out a family of seven.

Assistant Fire Chief Frank Lehner said the gas, used for cooking, probably overcame all of the victims before the fire broke out last night.

Killed were Henry Tochman, 34, a bakery route salesman; his wife Catherine, 32; and their five children, Henry Jr., 13; Patricia, 10; Carol, 8; Mary Grace, 4, and Jo Ann, 2.

Their one-story home just northeast of this city was burned to the ground.

265; Sunbury, $408,795; Charleroi-Monessen, $341,159; Point Marion, $191,399; Minsi Trail, Bethlehem, $144,323; Ellwood-Koppel, $89,310; New St., Bethlehem, $77,163; Eighth St., Allentown, $71,959.

TAR HEEL TENNIS STARS

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (P)—Tennis has been one of the University of North Carolina's most successful and popular sports. Vic Seixas, America's top amateur and Davis Cup player, is a Tar Heel grad. Other greats include National Clay courts champion, Wilmer Hines, Archie Henderson, Harris Everett and Zan Carver.

FROM ENGLISH TO FOOTBALL

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (P)—Carl Snively, head football coach at North Carolina, was once an English teacher. Before entering the college field he taught and coached at Kiski and Bellefonte prep schools.

TAFT ATTACK ON IKE'S CHOICE MAY BACKFIRE

WASHINGTON (P)—Two Senate Republicans were in disagreement today on whether Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio ruined his chances for GOP Senate floor leader by his attack on President-elect Eisenhower's choice for secretary of labor.

One Republican lawmaker, a staunch Taft backer who asked not to be quoted by name, foresaw as a result the "draft" of Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, the present floor leader, for another term.

But another Taft supporter, also requesting anonymity, said an organized effort would be made to elect Taft to the post. He would not predict the outcome, but said the drive would be stopped only if Taft removed himself from consideration.

Three in Picture

Bridges spread word soon after the Nov. 4 election that he wanted to pass the leadership job to other hands and take over the less burdensome duties of the temporary president of the Senate.

In case of a dispute over his successor, however, Bridges has been regarded as available for another term as floor leader.

The New York Herald Tribune reported today that "Sen. Bridges has now changed his mind and is now known to be willing to continue in this post to promote party harmony."

Taft has declared he is available for the post. His only avowed rival is Sen. William Knowland of California, who has said he is in the race against anybody except Bridges.

GEN. STRICKLER GOING TO ROME

ROME (P)—Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, newly named chief of the U. S. Military Assistance and Advisory Group for Italy, expects to take over his new duties here by the week end.

The former lieutenant-governor of Pennsylvania, who has been in Germany as commander of Pennsylvania's 28th Division forces, arrived here on Tuesday with his wife, the former Caroline Grace Bolton of Oil City, Pa.

Strickler succeeds Maj. Gen. John K. Rice as head of the group here. Rice, a veteran of 36 years service, leaves next Tuesday for the U. S. and retirement.

"Much as I hated leaving the 28th Division," Strickler said on his arrival, "I am delighted to be here. This is a choice assignment."

Strickler will be succeeded as commander of the 28th by Maj. Gen. Courtlandt Van R. Schuyler, 52, who is now special assistant to Gen. Alfred M. Guenther, SHAPE chief of staff.

The earliest records of the game of polo are Persian.

TRUMAN AVERTS COAL STRIKE BY REVERSING WSB ON WAGE BOOST

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another year of peace in the nation's coal mines appeared assured today but to win it President Truman had to overrule all his top defense agency officials and grant coal miners an extra wage boost.

The President yesterday approved the full $1.90 daily wage increase for John L. Lewis' 375,000 soft coal miners because, he said, he does not want President-elect Eisenhower to have a coal strike crisis on his hands when he takes office.

The move averted an almost certain strike, but it opened the door to a boost in coal prices to consumers and touched off unrest among public members of the Wage Stabilization Board.

Cox May Quit
Although none are expected to resign, WSB Chairman Archibald Cox was known to be undecided and may quit.

One WSB member also said Truman's decision would have a "terrific and disappointing effect" on unions which in the past have accepted WSB reductions and now have wage cases pending before the board.

Coal miners themselves—whose basic minimum daily wage is boosted to $18.25—were reportedly jubilant. One top United Mine Workers official at Pittsburgh said the move "undoubtedly averted a strike." John Busarello, president of UMW District 5, said his men had been getting "itchy" over delays.

Putnam Had Refused

Lewis had negotiated the $1.90 increase with industry, but the WSB had cut this to $1.50 on the grounds that any more would "irreparably damage" the stabilization program.

Lewis and Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, appealed the WSB decision to Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam.

But Putnam refused to overrule his board. And Defense Mobilizer Henry H. Fowler also refused to change the WSB decision. That left it up to the President—and his inner circle of advisers.

Putnam Not Pleased

Truman's decision to grant the full $1.90, announced in the form of a letter to Putnam, said the "probable consequences" of a failure to do so would be a disastrous coal strike which would create a "crisis" for Eisenhower.

Putnam, announcing the President's decision to newsmen, said: "This is not the decision I would have made. It is not the decision I would have recommended."

Means OK For Hard Coal

It means higher price ceilings for many varieties of soft coal, but probably not for all. Most soft coal has been selling well under existing ceiling prices, and the higher wage costs can be absorbed for some varieties within present ceilings.

Truman estimated the extra cost of producing coal now will be "perhaps 5 or 6 cents a ton."

But the decision indicates that a similar contract signed by Lewis and the hard coal industry, now pending before the WSB, will also be approved. This would lead to a price increase of between 80 cents and $1 per ton on hard coal, the type used by home owners for heating.

NEW FACTORY FOR ALCOA AT LANCASTER, PA.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Aluminum Co. of America will build a new fabricating plant at Lancaster, Pa., at a cost of more than three million dollars.

Alcoa said today the new plant will employ 350 at the start and 450 later. It will produce screw machine products, fasteners, rivets and nails for both civilian and defense consumers.

Operations now located at Edgewater, N. J., will be shifted to Lancaster and the New Jersey plant will produce more aluminum sheet, impact extrusion and foil products.

Site Not Disclosed

Negotiations between the company and owners of several prospective sites are incomplete, Alcoa said, adding it will not disclose the exact site until property agreements are finished.

About 45 acres will be required. The one-story plant will have 200,000 square feet of floor space with a design which will permit expansion to a possible 400,000 square feet.

Construction is expected to take 12 to 15 months, depending on government authorization. Starting date of construction is contingent on those authorizations and the property agreements.

Raw materials for the new plant will come from Alcoa's plant in Massena, N. Y.

borrow money on regular interest terms because a scheduled allotment did not arrive last month.

Going Out Today

"All payments due fourth class school districts will clear this office by today," Quackenbush disclosed. He added that semi-annual payments to first, second and third class districts will be requisitioned by some time next week and then will go to the state treasurer.

Quackenbush described the extra work as an accumulation of administrative and clerical duties brought about by the 1951 law which upped school payments. The appropriations to fourth class districts are due in October, to other districts, last month.

Although plague is believed to have existed in ancient times, its most spectacular development was the Black Death of the 14th Century which took three-quarters of the population of some parts of Europe.

Littlestown

LITTLESTOWN—The Sophomore class of the Littlestown Junior Senior High School will sell chicken sandwiches on Saturday morning for the benefit of the class treasury. The sale will be conducted from door-to-door.

Miss Jane Reigl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Reigl, Lumber St., and Miss Bernice Plunkert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Plunkert, Littlestown R. 2, returned to Los Angeles, Calif., on Monday afternoon after spending a week at their respective homes. Both girls have positions there. Miss Plunkert is also attending California Air college, where she is pursuing a stewardess course. The girls returned to the west coast by plane, leaving from the National Airport in Washington, D. C., to which point they were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Plunkert and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Roberts.

Capt. Charles F. Frock, who spent the past two years as chief assistant as professor of military science at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. Captain Frock, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Frock, M St., is a graduate of the Littlestown High School.

He attended Gettysburg College and was graduated from the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y. Capt. and Mrs. Frock and daughters, Susan and Sally Ann, visited recently with relatives and friends in Littlestown and Hanover. Funeral services for John E. Palmer, 66, husband of Mrs. Annie Masenheimer Palmer, Littlestown R. 2, who died on Monday at 5:30 p.m., in the Warner Hospital, where he was admitted as a patient last Wednesday, were conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Little's Funeral Home, Littlestown, officiated. Interment was in the Christ Church Cemetery. Serving as pallbearers were R. Guy Lain, Samuel Wildasin, Harry Feeser, Luther Mathias, Evan D. Kline Jr. and Harvey Kline.

Admits Payments To Unions for "Peace"

NEW YORK (AP)—Stevedoring firms have acknowledged making big "good will" payments to union leaders, dock bosses and steamship company officials to keep labor peace and to obtain business on New York's waterfront. Opening of public hearings yesterday by the New York State Crime Commission lifted the lid on alleged crime and racketeering in the city's seven billion dollar a year shipping industry.

It has been estimated the industry's annual losses run to 350 millions because of such things as pilfering, smuggling, and pay kickbacks by longshoremen to their union bosses.

BLAMES NEW SCHOOL LAW FOR SLOW PAY

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Department of Public Instruction official attributes the delay in payment of state money to school districts to a 1951 law which boosted the appropriations.

"Increasing the allotments has caused an immense amount of work calculating payments and the department never has been able to catch up with the work since the enactment of the new law," says E. A. Quackenbush, director of the Bureau of School Administration. The explanation was made on Tuesday in answer to a question concerning a report that the York City school district may have to

A Bit Of History About Your Own Adams County

This is the 39th in a series of historical talks given over Radio Station WGET by Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, Adeline Sager professor of history at Gettysburg College, on some of the outstanding events and interesting episodes in the development of Adams County.

In the preceding article we discussed the beginning and development of the Low Dutch Colony of Conewago, as well as the history of the church organization from 1769 to 1793. In the latter year the second and last pastor of the church, the Rev. George Brinkerhoff, resigned and left the community. In this article we shall continue by telling of the migration of the settlers in the colony to distant parts and the consequent dissolution of the church.

Even before Mr. Brinkerhoff left the charge of the Conewago congregation, it is likely that the people had listened to the preaching of the Rev. Andrew Gray. In October, 1792, the General Synod of the Reformed Dutch Church in America sent a missionary to "visit the congregation at Hanover and other districts on the Susquehanna," at the urgent request of the people in those regions, to organize churches and strengthen weak ones.

"Resuscitated Congregation"
The Rev. Mr. Gray was the missionary. In October of the following year, 1793, Mr. Gray reported to the General Synod that he had "resuscitated the congregation at Hanover and organized a new congregation on the Susquehanna, having received forty-five members and administered Holy baptism and the Lord's Supper, and frequently preached to said congregation and in adjoining neighborhoods."

There can be no doubt that the "Hanover" mentioned was the Conewago Church. Gray apparently never returned but the church continued to exist, although it never thereafter had a regular pastor of Dutch Reformed connection.

The church was then supplied with such ministers as were available in the neighborhood. The first of these was the Rev. John Black, who had given up his office as minister of the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church of Conewago in 1794 until 1801 when he removed to Westmoreland County, where he died the next year. The second, and probably the last regular supply at the Conewago Church was the Rev. Alexander Dobbin who was the pastor of the Rock Creek Associate Reformed Church and who probably served until his death in 1809.

Joined Presbyterians
It is not strange to find that the Dutch Reformed congregation welcomed Scotch Presbyterian preachers, for their doctrines were Calvinistic and their government Presbyterian, as were the Presbyterian churches. And when their own congregation was finally dissolved, the most of the Dutch people went into the nearby Presbyterian churches, the majority of these probably following Mr. Dobbin into his own communion.

Thus ends the story of the Reformed Dutch Church of the Conewago. It remains only to learn what became of their property. On February 10, 1817, an act was read in the Senate of Pennsylvania, and finally approved on March 24, 1817, authorizing the trustees of the Low Dutch congregation in Adams County to sell and convey a certain piece of land, setting forth "Whereas it is represented to the Legislature that Cornelius Cosine did by deed convey to Francis Cossart, David Van Dine and David Demaree, in trust for the use of the Low Dutch Congregation of Calvinists, a certain piece of land containing about one acre; whereas the said trustees are all dead and members of the congregation have become attached to other congregations, the house and lands now lying waste and the members have prayed the Legislature to appoint trustees to sell and convey the same."

Sale Is Authorized

In view of these representations, the Legislature by enactment appointed Wilhelmus Hooghtaling, Jacob Cossart and Garret Brinkerhoff, or their survivors, trustees and authorized them to "sell, and convey at certain piece of land in Straban Twp., Adams County, containing about one acre," and to apply the proceeds of such sale towards erecting a permanent stone wall around the burying ground connected with the church, and towards such religious purposes as a majority of those who were formerly members of the congregation may recommend in writing.

It appears that the proceeds of the sale were $288.20, and that this amount was expended in accordance with the provisions of the act just cited. A paper, setting forth this information, was audited November 16, 1820. This date may be taken as the official end of the Low Dutch Reformed congregation of the Conewago. The only tangible evidence still remaining is the graveyard, still to be seen, a short distance southeast of Huntstown, and surrounded by a stone wall, unquestionably the one built with the proceeds of the sale of the land and improvements.

Emigrate From County
Other influences from this colony can still be traced in the survival of family names and of persons bearing those names. Sometimes the names have been corrupted by the influence of other languages, in other cases they remain clearly to testify to their Low Dutch origin.

However, the greater number of the people of the colony emigrated from Adams County, and they went in two directions, westward and northward. The earliest removals in a group went to Kentucky. A Kentucky history says: "The first Dutch emigration to Kentucky, in a group or company, was in 1781, to White Oak Spring station, on the Kentucky River, one mile above Boonesborough."

Pioneers In West

"Among the emigrants were Henry Banta Sr., Henry Banta Jr., Abraham and John Banta, Samuel, Peter, Daniel, Henry and Albert Buryee, Peter Cossart, Frederick Ripperdam and John Fleury." These names, with the single exception of Ripperdam, will be recognized as names of the Conewago settlement, and evidence from descendants confirms the soundness of the view that these were from Adams County. But not all who went from Adams County went out together. Some must have gone as late as 1790.

These people were real pioneers in the far distant western country. They must have had an arduous journey of upwards of 500 miles. Their first settlement was, as we have seen, a mile or so from Boonesborough; a little later it was where Harrodsburg now stands, but in the course of a few years they established themselves permanently in and about a village called "Six Mile," later Pleasantville, in Henry County. There some of them purchased 1,200 acres of land in 1784 and called it the "Low Dutch Tract," dividing it among themselves. It does not appear that they established their ancestral church, but rather became the pioneer Presbyterians in that section.

Pastor Resigns

We have said that the emigration of the Low Dutch from Adams County proceeded in two directions, westward and northward. The first to Kentucky was the larger and more important, but the second, to New York, northward in 1793, had a more immediate effect on the relative few who remained behind. The migration to the northward of even the smaller group, when the colony had already suffered the earlier removal, was a cause for discouragement to those who did not leave.

As we have noticed, their church received a severe setback in 1793, the last pastor resigning. From that time, the few Dutch families still on the ground ceased to hold on long to their separate church, nor did they long keep themselves separate in other respects, rather through inter-marriage and from other causes soon becoming absorbed in the general population.

The circumstances under which the journey to northern New York in the area of the Finger Lakes, was made, are worthy of notice. A letter, written in 1883, will tell the story. "You ask for further information in regard to the ten families who left Gettysburg April 30, 1793. They reached this county (Cayuga, N. Y., near Auburn) ten years before I was born. I have no written record of their names, but have often heard them mentioned. The male heads of the families were: my father, Jacob Brinkerhoff, his brother, Ralph Brinkerhoff, Thomas Johnson, Abraham Bodine, Charles Van Tine, Luke Brinkerhoff, James Dates, Isaac Parsell, Jacob Loyster and Andrew Johnson.

Erect Cabins
"These ten families came in company. On reaching the south end of our county they found some cleared Indian fields. Here they concluded to stop and put up some cabins for shelter. Having sowed some seed, they took time to explore the country and decide where to make a permanent settlement. After two years they purchased lands near the foot of Owasco Lake and got possession in the spring of 1795. They organized a religious society in the same year in connection with the Reformed Dutch Church, and met for worship in their log cabins. But soon new settlers came in rapidly, and the summer of 1797 they built the first real church edifice in the county."

Here again, on the frontier, these hardy people made a new beginning and to this settlement, as well as to those in Kentucky, later came many of their relatives from the Low Dutch settlement of Conewago.

Thus passed out of existence a distinctive racial group of which the greater part were only sojourners in Adams County. The much smaller number of those who remained, together with their descendants, made their contribution to the development of Adams County, and cherish a heritage and a tradition which has enriched our county history.

Be Fashion Right When You Choose His Christmas Ties

The Christmas tie is a bright and beautiful holiday tradition, and for the petticoat shopper who is willing to flavor her shopping with a spice of adventure, this year's Yuletide cravat can be as big an event to give as to receive. For the Christmas ties this year have several new style features about them that are really new—new in their shape, their designs, their fabrics and their colorings.

The gift ties have thinned down to a sleek new average of 3 1/2 inches. This new trim, slim look conforms to the general outline of men's newest fashions, which emphasize less padding.

The patterns look different also, for instead of the highly imaginative, rather sprawling designs of other years, the Christmas tie designs travel in an up and down vertical line to further the illusion of tall trimness.

Designs too are more regularly spaced and many of them have third dimensional look. Newest of the designs is an "under the knot" pattern which falls directly beneath the knot on a plain background.

Beautiful Fabrics
The fabrics in the holiday tie will delight the woman shopper as well as the recipient, for they are the most beautiful and varied in years. Elegance and richness are the hallmarks of the new tie fabrics, with rich heavy woven fabrics leading the parade.

There is a sharp emphasis on surface "texture" interest in these ties. Embroidery, raised designs are popular and fabrics with irregular "slubs" such as shantung, are in high favor and good taste. Even the rich deep pile of velvets and suedes have been simulated on tie fabrics this season.

And ties, always the most colorful and important fashion accessory a man wears, glow with new and fresh colors this season. White backgrounds will continue to set are popular and fabrics with irregulars, and other soft clear shades, such as copper and mahogany and olive green among the popularity winners.

More than 70,000,000 lucky men will be up to their necks in color this Christmas, according to industry statistics, in some of the newest and most beautiful neckwear ever produced.

PHOTO FUN

The amateur photographer will appreciate a roomy photograph album for his "snaps." Be sure to include mounting corners for display. A personal touch can be achieved by pasting the giver's picture on the front page with an appropriate greeting.

FOR THE COLLEGE GIRL

There are bound to be fond thanks from the college girl who receives a blazer jacket, on which she can feature her sorority letters or college name, for Christmas. Jackets, of this type, can be had in durable wool fabrics in white or deep shades.

SUN GLASSES IN WINTER

A gift of sunglasses can be just as welcome in the winter time, for combating snow glare, as it is in the summer. Choose a pair with frames to complement his or her facial features and to offer fashionable appeal as well.

A SPICY GIFT

Dish up a flavorful Christmas for anyone who enjoys puttering around the kitchen. Give an herb shelf — it's sure to be appreciated. There are many fine ones, filled with the most piquant spices, being offered.

Want It To Be Her Best? Then Heed This Counsel!

Selected with her personal tastes and, perhaps, the subtle hint she's run to the light and gay, the carefully chosen gift is bound to create stars, as bright and lovely as the holiday itself, in her eyes.

A matched set of luggage, fine reptile handbag, precious jewelry or furs are all gifts she may have expressed a desire for. And, even if she hasn't uttered the merest word about her Christmas wishes, any one of these gifts will be an exciting surprise and give lasting joy.

A truly luxurious set of matched luggage could be selected in all white rawhide. Or, if her tastes run to the light and gay, the luggage could be chosen in a colorful plaid. Individual pieces of luggage, such as a fitted toilet case or a soft, pliant carry-all, also make lastingly appreciated gifts.

A fine reptile handbag is a handsome accessory for every woman, regardless of whether she is the outdoor or ultra feminine type. To make it just right, the handbag need only be selected in a size complementary to her own dimensions.

Precious Jewelry

Precious jewelry is not only a gift she will be proud to wear for a long time, but may well also be a sound investment. A glittering diamond pin, a ring featuring her birthstone or a fine strand of cultured pearls are only a few of the gifts of precious jewelry to be had. And, of these, many come easily within the boundaries of a limited budget.

Whether it's mink or mouton, every woman dotes on furs. If she already has a coat, there are "little fur pieces" like stoles, jackets and scarves that are sure to receive fond thanks. For the really small budget, there are ascots, chokers and dress ornaments that cost little even when presented in the most precious of furs.

Perhaps the most personal of all important gifts for a woman is good perfume.

This should be selected with extreme care; a light airy fragrance for the woman who dotes on pastels and chiffons, a spicy aroma for the tweedy, country type and a sultry fragrance for the more sophisticated woman.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT RUPTURE

It's old-fashioned and unnecessary to wear a truss these days.

The modern method, without operation, successfully overcomes hernia in most cases. You'll be pleasantly surprised when you learn the facts about Rupture and its simple, modern treatment, without surgery, loss of time or hospitalization. Don't let rupture slow you up at work or play. WRITE NOW for this easy to understand

England Providing New Garden Blooms

NEW YORK (AP) — A top horticulturist recently returned from England with 300 varieties of plants, all strangers to America, most of which will eventually find their way into U.S. gardens.

T. H. Everett of the New York Botanical Garden said that most of the plants are quite rare although he was primarily concerned in importing plants that would thrive in America and be of interest to gardeners.

Among the more unusual plants are a yellow-flowered lilac, a double flowered sweet rocket, five new varieties of geraniums and even some specially bred varieties of goldenrod. Everett said the British Isles are the treasure house of the world for cultivated flowers. "For centuries — ever since the Crusades — the British people have been gathering different varieties of flowers from all over the world."

The flowers will be kept in the New York Botanical Garden until it is certain they are bearing no alien blight. Then they will be distributed throughout the country. Various garden clubs sponsored the flower-hunting expedition.

Nearly four-fifths of the coal produced in Britain is cut and conveyed mechanically.

COFFEE HOUR "TWICE-A-DAY" NOW A HABIT

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — In most American business offices there comes a pause in the day's occupation that is known as "the coffee hour."

In fact there usually are two pauses—one in the morning, the other in the afternoon.

It has grown so insidiously that it is now a generally accepted fact of office life, and is taken as a normal working condition. Most employers now put up with it. They have come to realize that grown-ups, like children, have to have a periodic recess to let off their pent-up nervous energy.

That has taken a lot of fun out of what used to be a thrilling adventure. Fifteen to 25 years ago the following ominous notice was a common sight on company bulletin boards:

Practice Once Forbidden

"It has come to the management's attention that a number of employees are leaving their desks during their hours of employment to get coffee. This will not be tolerated and must cease at once."

That, of course, was a flat dare and a challenge. An employee would spend an hour every morning figuring a new way to sneak down the back stairs, gulp a quick cup of coffee, and get back before he was missed. He felt like a naughty child disobeying his parents, and always wondered fearfully:

"If I bump into the boss, will he fire me?"

Today the coffee hour is an accepted institution. It has infected the bosses themselves. They decided, "Well, if all the hired hands are going downstairs to get a cup of coffee, I might as well, too. I could use a little snack myself."

So what happens? You are sitting there enjoying a cup of steaming brew, contentedly aware that you are having it on company time and are shirking your duty, when the boss himself sits down on the next stool.

"How's everything?" he says cheerfully, ordering himself a cup. "By the way, how are you coming along with that Jones matter?"

For the next 15 minutes you both mull the Jones matter over and finally reach a decision. When you go back to your desk you feel vaguely cheated, and don't know why.

The reason is simple. You haven't pulled one over the boss's eyes at all. He has pulled one on you. Far from letting you escape from your job, the boss has got more real action from you in 15 minutes at the coffee counter than he could in three hours upstairs.

Of course, that's why he is the boss—because he knows how to get the most out of you. And today he thinks the coffee hour is a fine way to get more work done, and only wonders why he didn't think up the idea himself.

Accidental Deaths Showing Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — There were 1,946 accidental deaths in New York City in the first eight months of 1952, reports the Greater New York Safety Council. This was an increase of 103 deaths over the figure for the same period last year.

Home accidents claimed 995 victims while 382 were killed in motor vehicle accidents. The unusual heat wave in June and July caused 80 deaths from sunstroke and heat prostration, an increase of more than 60 over 1951 figures.

Canadian Northland Cities Predicted

OTTAWA (AP) — Cities of 20,000 to 30,000 and maybe more will spring up in Canada's forbidding northland within this century. That's the prediction of the Defense Department's senior authority on the Arctic.

Mining, says English-born Graham Rowley, is the factor that will carry civilization into the Arctic and sub-Arctic in the next 50 years, building cities where now there are only isolated airfields, mining camps and tiny settlements.

Canada hasn't gone as far as other countries — the United States, Russia, Denmark — in developing her northland mainly because her tiny population has been too busy taming the southern part of the country. Nor has there been any pressure on Canadians to go north to seek land because there has been plenty in less bleak places.

Reporter Reveals Again Name Of Confederate Veteran Who Killed General J. F. Reynolds

The death of Maj. Gen. John Fulton Reynolds, commander of the First Corps, Army of the Potomac, the first general staff officer on the field of Gettysburg on July 1, 1863, has been recounted many times, but Joseph T. Kingston, writing in a recent issue of the Lancaster Sunday News, reveals, he says, for the first time the name of the Confederate soldier whose bullet caused Reynolds' demise.

Gen. Reynolds was the son of the editor and publisher of the Lancaster Journal, whose birthplace and childhood home still stands in downtown Lancaster. Gen. Reynolds is buried in a Lancaster Cemetery. In the Lee Museum here is preserved the saddle from which the general was shot.

"Everyone, of course, knows that Gen. Reynolds was killed shortly after the beginning of the engagement on July 1, 1863," writes Mr. Kingston. "All Lancaster children know how General Reynolds came galloping onto the field in that early morning of July, 89 years ago, took in at a glance the tactical situation and began issuing rapid-fire orders which, in effect, actually committed the entire Union Army to battle at this point."

In Action Two Hours
"They know that, less than two hours later, the general was shot out of his saddle by a Confederate sharpshooter just after he had sent the famous 'Iron Brigade' of Michigan Black Hats into McPherson's Woods south of the Chambersburg Pike, a mile or so west of Gettysburg. . . . That sharpshooter lived many years and he knew what he had done."

"The man himself did not make known his part in General Reynolds' death until 1902, when he, himself, was an old man. But he had known, also by his own admission, that the 'field officer' he shot to death in the misty morning of July 1, 1863 — after three deliberate ranging shots — was Maj. General John Fulton Reynolds, Union Army Corps commander."

Prisoners Confirm Death
"He knew it only an hour after the fatal shot, when his outfit brought in some federal prisoners of the First Corps, and they disarmingly volunteered the information that Gen. Reynolds had been killed by sharpshooter fire a short time before, in front of the same woods where they had been collected."

"In November of 1902 the Lancaster Intelligencer printed a story by Leander T. Hensel of Quarryville. Mr. Hensel, of a well-known and reputable Lancaster County family, revealed in this story that he had talked with the ex-Confederate soldier who shot and killed Maj. Gen. John Fulton Reynolds."

"Hensel had met the man on a business trip into North Carolina. The man had noticed his name and 'Lancaster, Pa.' on the register of a small hotel in a small North Carolina town, and had 'waited on him' to talk and explain something."

"He was Benjamin C. Thorp, former sergeant and 'first' sharpshooter with Capt. Henry Webb's company of the 55th North Carolina Infantry, in Davis' Brigade of A. P. Hill's Corps."

Was "A Bible Man"

"Many years after the war he came to Leander Hensel in this Piedmont town of North Carolina, far from his mountain land, with a humble tale, told in crude language. Hensel believed him, because there was no reason for him to lie. His story was not 'old soldier boasting'; it was told in an apologetic tone. He was, he said, 'a Bible man.'"

"An this was the story he told Leander Hensel of Quarryville about how he — Ben Thorp — came to kill Maj. Gen. John Fulton Reynolds of Lancaster."

"After detailing how his company had been thrown out in skirmish line after it became evident that a 'considerable' body of 'militia' intended to contest the Confederate occupation of Gettysburg on that early morning of July 1, 1863, Thorp said he had been posted a short distance off the Cashtown Rd. at the edge of an ancient orchard, several hundred yards to the rear of the intermittent firing among the skirmish line."

Saw Stone House

"There was a stone house nearby on a hill," Thorp said. (This apparently was the house later occupied by Gen. Robert E. Lee as his headquarters at Gettysburg. It stands at the crest of the ridge along the Chambersburg Rd., and is now known as the Lee Museum.)

"We could see," he went on, "a mounted officer, believed to be a general, riding back and forth near the edge of the woods to the south of our position. He seemed to be ordering the positioning of artillery, which by this time was coming up from beyond the town."

"There was a cherry tree, standing on a level piece of land (where we were) and I remember a log of wood resting against the trunk of the tree. There were notches cut in this log, to make steps, as if those who had picked the cherries had used it to climb the tree. When we spotted the mounted officer, I climbed this tree and began interval sharpshooter fire against the artillery crews who were unlimbering their guns."

Third Shot Is Fatal

"Captain Webb (who was killed two days later at Gettysburg himself) was standing beneath the cherry tree, watching the action through field glasses. Suddenly he called to me: 'Look to your right, at the battery on the hill, there. There's a general; try him.'"

"The battery, and the general, seemed to be about 400 yards beyond the skirmish firing on our front, and I asked Captain Webb to judge the range for me. This was about ten o'clock in the morning, I guessed."

"The captain looked closely through his glasses again, then told me the range was 1,100 yards. I raised my sight to that elevation and fired. I am too high, I told Captain Webb, and lowered my sight to 900 yards. Fired again. 'You are yet too high,' said Captain Webb. 'Bring it down a trifle.'"

"I then reset the sight for 800 yards, aimed carefully and fired the third time. Captain Webb shouted: 'Well done, Thorp, you got him.'"

Saw Reynolds Fall
"Watching, I saw the officer reel and fall from his horse into the arms of a soldier nearby. That evening we had collected a lot of prisoners and they told us that a sharpshooter had killed General Reynolds, of the First Corps, with a shot apparently fired at extreme range."

"Ben Thorp went all through the battle, and later, still carrying his heavy sharpshooter's rifle, joined the desolate retreat through the South Mountain passes — one of the few men of his company who lived to fight again in Virginia. After the war, he went back home to his own mountains and — like many of his fellow-veterans — refused for years to discuss the appalling slaughter he had witnessed. "But that incident of Gettysburg had remained clear in his memory, if only because General Reynolds was the only one of the probable hundreds of men he had

STATE YIELDS GOOD CROP OF SCHOOL STARS

By BEN FRENCH
HARRISBURG (AP) — Collegiate football scouts from all parts of the nation swarmed into Pennsylvania today to take a look at a bumper crop of schoolboy grid stars.

coaches, produced one of its best arrays of potential college material this year.

Dozens of leading college mentors are hitting the banquet circuit this week in hopes of luring some of the high school stars to their campus.

The competition is especially keen among backfield stars with some of the outstanding backs receiving as many as 30 different offers.

Outstanding Backs

Here are some of those gaining the most notice from the coaches: George Marinkov, Lebanon's fleet halfback who scored 25 touchdowns. Fred Chicado, Shade Township's triple-threat, who led state scorers with 173 points.

Cornie Salvaterra, Wilkes-Barre GAR quarterback, who excels as a field general, broken field runner, passer and punter.

Bobby Glascoff, Philadelphia Roman Catholic halfback, termed one of the best high school backs in the Quaker City's history.

Don Dorshimer and Terry Stewart, Allentown's touchdown twins, who scored nearly three dozen TD's between them.

Stu Wiggins, Clearfield powerhouse, who averaged 8.1 yards per carry.

Lou Costanzo, Dunmore's dynamo who has tallied 263 points in his scholastic career.

Don Gilbert, who led DuBois to an unbeaten season by scoring 18 touchdowns.

Chester Gilchrist, Har-Barck, from the same town and called a carbon copy of big Ed Modzelewski, West Natrona, star at Maryland U.

Jim Suiter, Sunbury's dazzling quarterback who ran and tossed the Owls into the Eastern Conference title.

Four Star Ends

In addition to the backs a host of exceptional linemen have attracted the college mentors. Included in the list are four of the best ends within memory—Ernie

Verona Boasts Of Its Short River

VERONA, Italy (AP) — People around here like to brag about their record-breaking river. They claim it has the shortest name — and runs the shortest distance — of any river on earth.

It's the R River. From its origin on Mt. Baldo to where it pours into Lake Garda, it is only 525 feet long.

But it does just about everything a river is supposed to do. There's a bridge, a waterfall, good fishing, several irrigation canals, and a couple of water mills. Once, back in 1882, it even had a flood and destroyed several houses nearby.

shot and killed in action whose identity he knew.

Knew Reynolds' Reputation

Furthermore, he felt he knew Reynolds. Not personally, of course, but by notable reputation. Reynolds was the corps commander who had plunged deepest into the heavy Confederate lines on the crucial right flank at Fredericksburg, Va., in December, 1862, nearly breaking through and actually planting his battleflags among the smoking rebel artillery.

"And it had been John Fulton Reynolds, who, as military governor of Fredericksburg, had so impressed the citizens of that historic town. They were all sorry, in a way, when Reynolds had been captured and spent a brief but bitter time in grim Libby Prison at Richmond. Hundreds in the rank and file of Lee's tough Army of Northern Virginia had a deep respect for General Reynolds.

"Ben Thorp had been one of those men, and for this reason, he felt a sense of personal regret in the fact that he had been the instrument of Reynolds' death.

Was Shot In Neck

"Anyhow, that's how he told the story to Leander Hensel of Quarryville, more than 50 years ago.

"Hensel, in turn, gave Thorp a fill-in on what had happened after that fatal shot; how the bullet had entered the general's neck, in the rear (apparently he had just turned his head to look to the rear, and the oncoming fresh infantry) and emerged above the eye. How he fell without a word, and how his body was carried to the rear and then by wagon and railroad, brought by a circuitous route back to his old home at Lancaster.

"Hensel described the Lancaster Cemetery and the Reynolds plot, where the general was buried alongside his family, and how each year, on Decoration Day, the big General John F. Reynolds Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, in Philadelphia, sent a huge floral spray and wreath to place on the grave.

"Thorp had never returned to Gettysburg, and Hensel promised to send him pictures of the field, now studded with hundreds of monuments. The 'cherry tree' he feared was long gone, but the old 'stone house' was still there, and photographs had been made of the spot where General Reynolds was killed. (We wonder if he ever got a photograph of Thorp?)

"The details of this story, as it was passed on to the readers of the Lancaster Intelligencer in November, 1902, were first printed in the Quarryville Sun."

Back in 1891, every man on the Duke team scored a touchdown as the Blue Devils trounced Furman, 96-0. Touchdowns counted four points in those days.

Oil-Rich Island Gets Water Supply

NEW YORK (AP) — The little oil-rich island of Kuwait in the Persian Gulf is to get a million gallons of fresh water a day from the sea. A British firm has received the contract to build a seawater distillation plant on the island, reports the British Information Service here.

Although it has only a few thousand inhabitants, Kuwait has been dubbed the "billion dollar island" and its Sheik is said to be fabulously rich from oil royalties.

TOURIST VISA FEES WAIVED

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines government has approved a foreign office proposal to exempt tourists from $15 visa fees to encourage its tourist trade with the United States.

The recommendation was made after a survey showed 39 countries required no visas for Americans, 14 did not require passports, while seven others issued visas free of charge.

SKI ACCESSORIES

Goggles to eliminate glare, snug-fitting, warm mittens, ski poles to lend a helping hand through deep drifts and up steep climbs, are just a few of the gifts for the ski enthusiasts in your crowd.

Pitts, Aliquippa: Tom Cherundolo, Old Forge; Dick Willard, Sunbury, and Don Shelton, Lancaster.

More than 200 of the state's top schoolboy players are now being screened for the 1952 AP All-Pennsylvania Scholastic Football Team. The selections will be released next week.

VOTER'S VOICE DEVELOPED TO AIR OPINIONS

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. (AP) — A commuter has come up with a comparatively painless, completely non-partisan way to write your congressman.

William Cabell, a New York attorney who — like about a million other people — spends considerable time each day riding to and from his work, took to worrying a few months ago about his opinions and their lack of proper outlet.

"I'd get all steamed up in transit about U.M.W. or the Clark appointment to the Vatican, or about televising public hearings," he explained, "and decide I'd write a letter to my Congressman. But by the time I got to the office or home, something else would come along and I'd never get around to it."

He was convinced, however, that there should be some way for elected representatives to have an idea about what people in their districts were thinking about issues.

He was, and is, an independent in politics and never has done anything more politically significant than poll-watching. But now he finds himself editor and publisher of a small, highly non-profit experiment called the "Voters Voice."

Importance Of Being Earnest
"Most people just don't take time and trouble to write those letters," he said. "I don't care what people think about things, but I do think they should let what they think be known. Most Congressmen get mail from pressure groups. If a Congressman wants to get a general reaction, he has to depend on polls."

Cabell got his brother, R. A. Cabell, and a neighbor, C. L. Baldwin Jr., interested in the idea as a public service. Working weekends and evenings, the three young men put together their first newsletter containing brief descriptions of pending federal and state legislation of general interest. William Cabell watched the newspapers for cues and then researched the subject in tomes like the Congressional Record. Each item contains short, non-editorial summaries of pro and con arguments on the subject.

The last page of each monthly "Voters Voice" is a series of pre-addressed communications to Con-

Patents Rain Idea In Atom Protection

NEW YORK (AP) — Umbrellas of man-made rain to protect warships and buildings from radioactive or poisonous air are proposed by Jack De Ment, of the De Ment Laboratories, Portland, Ore. De Ment has been granted a patent on the idea.

The rain would come from high-pressure nozzles, atop the ships or buildings. They would send curtains of raindrops falling umbrellas-fashion far out over the sides.

The raindrops would trap and carry down radio-atoms loosed from A-bombs or sent out as radioactive clouds. The rain would protect also against poison gases, heat waves, or germs loosed in bacteriological warfare, De Ment said.

Just after they are shot out of the nozzles, the raindrops would be given electric charges, the better to attract and hold dangerous atoms and particles.

ggressmen, Senators and Assemblymen stating, for example, "I favor—oppose House Bill 5715 to increase GI's pay because . . ." Then follows two blank lines for reasons, and room for the citizen's name and address.

"All you have to do," Cabell said, "is fill in your own reasons, stick the note in an envelope and send it off."

Samples Bring Response
Last month they sent complimentary samples to a few thousand persons living in their neighborhood in northern Westchester County. A year's subscription costs $1 (and doesn't cover costs). They received better than 10 per cent subscription returns.

"A lot of people are still suspicious of it," Cabell said. "They keep looking for an angle or a gimmick. It's so simple they just can't believe it's just what it claims itself to be."

Meanwhile, they informed their duly elected representatives in Washington and the state capital of the project. They have received very cautious, non-committal notes back.

"I guess they are afraid we have another pressure group in the making," he said. "If this thing really gets going, it might make a difference in the way they voted on things which affect us."

KNICKS TO BE VERY STRONG, SAYS LAPCHICK

By JOE LOPCHICK
Coach, New York Knickerbockers
NEW YORK (AP) — This Knickerbocker squad is the best I've had in my six seasons at Madison Square Garden. It has experience, scoring power, intelligence, speed and depth. And it has Carl Braun.

With the exception of Braun, back after two years in the Army, it is basically the same roster which just missed winning the National Basketball Association championship the past two years. We lost to Rochester in the 1951 playoff finals, three games to four, and to Minneapolis last season by a similar margin.

Hopes For Best
I'm usually conservative in pre-season forecasts, for 16 years coaching experience has taught me to hope for the best and expect the worst. But the Knickerbockers with Braun are a potent force, even in the tough NBA.

Before induction in September of 1950, Braun, who played at Colgate, and who passed up a pitching career in the New York Yankee chain, led the Knicks in scoring three straight years. In his freshman and sophomore pro seasons he had the fine average of 14.2. In 1949-50 he was the seventh highest scorer in the league with 1,031 points in 57 games for a 15.4 average. In the 1949 and 1950 playoffs he averaged 19.3 and 17.0 respectively.

Missed By One
With Braun we would have won the championship in 1951 and 1952. Without his talents we came within one victory of the title each year. Carl is very near the perfect basketball player. He'll get you 20 points a game consistently; he's a good rebounder for his height (6-5), an accurate passer, an excellent team man, and he hustles every second.

The Knicks have good height up front in Connie Simmons, 6-8; Sweetwater Clifton, 6-7; Harry Gallatin, 6-6, and Vince Boryla and Braun, both 6-5. All have had two or more years of league experience. We have had need of another big center to spell Simmons. We may have found the right one in a rookie. He's Ralph Polson, 6-7½, up from Whitworth College in Seattle.

Polson comes to us highly recommended by Pacific Coast coaches. He was the third leading collegiate scorer in the nation last winter with 709 points. He averaged a phenomenal 33 points in three NAIB tournament games at Kansas City last March; he's ambidextrous and reputedly exceptionally fast of hands and feet. However, it's a long jump from the campus to the rugged NBA and for that reason judgment on Polson must be withheld.

Good Backcourt Men
In the backcourt, setting up the plays and sparking our fast break are Dick McGuire, masterful ball-handler; Max Zaslofsky, our leading scorer last season; Ernie Vandeweghe of Colgate, richly deserving of his All-America label, and southpaw Ray Lumpp, in the league since 1948 and a former great player at New York University.

This could be the season the Knicks land on top. One major disadvantage is our schedule. We play 25 games at home and 45 on the road, some of the latter, of course, on neutral courts. This wide margin in home and away contests was necessitated by concessions to us in the matter of league doubleheaders. Thirteen twin bills will be played in Madison Square Garden.

LONG IRISH RUN
NOTRE DAME, Ind. (AP) — Half-back Joe Heap's 92-year touchdown return of a Pittsburgh punt this season was one of the longest punt returns in Notre Dame history. It ranks with such recent accomplishments as Terry Brennan's 96-yard kickoff return against Army in 1947, Bob Livingston's 92-yard gallop from scrimmage against Southern California in 1947, Bob Livingston's 92-yard gallop from scrimmage against Southern California in 1947 and Larry Coutre's 91-yard dash against Navy in 1949.

Stamp News

By SYD KRONISH
ZANZIBAR — A group of islands about 20 miles off the coast of Tanganyika in East Africa — has issued a new bi-colored definitive issue. The lower values, 5-cents to the 50-cents, feature a recent portrait of His Highness, the Sultan. The higher values, 1-shilling to 10 shillings, show the Seyid Khalifa Schools at Beit-el-Ras. The news of these new British colonial adhesives comes from the Crown Agents for the British Colonies.

A new stamp has been issued by Austria in its famous Austrian series. The 1-shilling blue-green stamp depicts a portrait of Nikolaus Lenau, the poet. The issue commemorates the 150th anniversary of the poet's birth. Lenau was born in Hungary but spent most of his life in Austria. American collectors will be interested to know that Lenau lived in Pennsylvania from 1832 to 1835 but returned to Austria to publish the first book of his poems.

Word comes from India that a new series of stamps will be issued soon. The series will honor Indian poets. Among the honored will be Kabir, Tulsidas, Mira, Surdas, Ghalib, Tiruvalluvar, Subramanaya Bharati and Tagore.

Czechoslovakia has issued two new stamps to honor the renovation of the Bethlehem Chapel where 550 years ago Jan Hus preached. The values are 1.50 kopecks, 3-k and 5-k.

Collectors of first day covers of U.S. stamps purchased 341,680 covers of the 3-cent Grand Coulee commemorative on May 15. There were 672,481 stamps sold. The 3-cent Lafayette stamp had 349,102 covers cancelled and 639,927 stamps sold.

The United Nations Postal Administration has announced that the first issue of a 10-cent air letter sheet will be made on Aug. 29. The air letter, which will bear a printed stamp of the 10-cent denomination, will conform to the dimensions and style used by the U.S. Post Office Department.

This new air letter has a place blue background with white lettering carrying the words "United Nations" in the five official languages.

Brazil has issued a new 1.20-cruzeiros stamp to mark the 50th anniversary of Brazil's participation in the Olympic Games, reports the New York Stamp Co. Depicted is an Olympic runner carrying the Olympic torch. Another athlete is reclining in the foreground. Also prominent are flags, a stand which holds the Olympic light and the famous five ring Olympic symbol. The dates 1902-1952 appear at the top left corner.

DEATH CHEATS CELEBRATION
WHISKEY GAP, Canada (AP) — Death cheated Mrs. Louise Berezsky, who was looking forward to celebrating her 100th birthday. Mrs. Berezsky, who had outlived seven of her 12 children, died two days before the anniversary date.

Touring Golfers In Warmer Climes

CHICAGO (AP) — A good part of the PGA winter golf tour will be held in three states — California, Texas and Florida. The Los Angeles Open is slated for Jan. 3-6, the Bing Crosby pro-amateur at Pebble Beach, Jan. 9-12 and the San Diego Open for Jan. 13-18 during the California tour.

Texas tournaments are the El Paso Open Feb. 5-8, the Texas Open in San Antonio, Feb. 12-15, the Rio Grand Valley Open at Harrison, Feb. 19-22, and the Houston Open Feb. 26-March 1. Florida tournaments are the St. Petersburg Open, March 12-15, the La Gorce Pro-Am at Miami Beach, Feb. 16, the Seminole Pro-Am at Palm Beach, March 17-18 and the Jacksonville Open, March 20-23.

Esso Extra Gasoline

FOR FAST STARTS... QUICK WARM-UP

Anti-Stalling is another big reason Esso Extra performs best in 9 out of 10 cars all year 'round

Stalling in cool, damp weather is caused by carburetor icing. You don't have to put up with this annoyance. For starting power that gets your engine going at a touch and keeps it going, try Anti-Stalling Esso Extra . . . the only gasoline that effectively combats cold engine stalling.

It's another big extra for your money in Esso Extra — the premium gasoline long famous for quick starting, fast warm-up, high anti-knock power, and long mileage! No wonder more motorists buy Esso Extra than any other premium gasoline in the area served by Esso Dealers.

Don't stall another day—try a tankful right away—enjoy Happy Motoring!

While you're at your Esso Dealer's there's certainly no better time to let him give your car a complete lubrication and careful check-up for the cold weather driving you'll be doing.

Detroit's Automotive Engineers say that cold-engine stalling has been a persistent problem for years. Under certain conditions, powerful gasolines required for today's high-compression engines evaporate and freeze moisture out of the air, "icing up" the carburetor and causing temporary stalling. This stalling is practically eliminated by the new Esso Extra Gasoline. (No gasoline, of course, can correct stalling caused by mechanical faults or electrical failure.)

PLEASE DRIVE CAREFULLY . . . THE LIFE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN!

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN

By The Associated Press
School life can be beautiful — even for the girl who is in a new high school trying to make friends. Most young girls feel tangle-footed and tongue-tied when faced with the prospect of working into a new circle of acquaintances.

The unfortunate thing about it is that teen-agers have three strikes on them when they embark on this new venture, says Keora Kono, head of the Personality Development course of the John Powers' school.

Miss Kono says that all but the very aggressive young ladies fit into that category. Says she: "They are scared to death because they've left their ready-made friends in Junior High School and just can't figure out how to cope with their new role. But being shy and timid at that age is just about as common an ailment as a cold."

There are three things that must be watched — dead give-aways that you lack self-assurance. But if these can be curbed, you'll be on the road to being a poised young lady, says Miss Kono:

Watch Body Mannerisms

More White Men Settling In Africa

LUANDA, Angola, Portuguese West Africa (AP) — The Portuguese Angola Colony in Africa will soon register its 100,000th white citizen. In 1910 only 3,000 whites lived here.

World War II speeded Angola's development tremendously. The population rose to 83,000 in 1950 with 17,000 white births in the colony and 22,000 new immigrants. Angola has now outgrown the stage of a tropical colony where the white man does no manual work and goes back to Europe after a number of years.

Agriculture has become a white man's business and white labor is also being used increasingly in the cement factories, tobacco manufactures, breweries and other industries.

There is no color bar in Angola. But the Angolan tribes show little disposition to follow the new pace of development. It is frequently cheaper to hire a more efficient white man who is better paid, than a cheaply paid native who is less efficient.

Drastic Changes In Autos Unlikely

HOUSTON (AP) — Revolutionary changes in automobiles in the next 25 years are not likely in the opinion of Dr. Charles F. Kettering, vice president of the General Motors research division.

The 77-year-old executive said here recently that dieselization of passenger cars is not feasible. The automotive industry's present ambitions are concerned with making cars more efficient, more durable, better styled and better equipped from the standpoint of their power plants.

He said that new high-compression engines will give motorists from 25 to 40 per cent more gasoline mileage. He predicted that such engines will not become generally available for five or six years although a few may show up in the next year or so.

Go out of your way to smile at the girl who asks you where room 601 is, instead of saying, "Why, over there of course," with a tone of voice that sounds like you'd like to add "you dope."

Miss Kono believes that cuteness of that sort shows that we are ill at ease.

When you are meeting new people, don't curl your hair around your little finger, bite your lip or twirl your bracelet. You are likely to scare off you new-found acquaintance just by acting nervous. She might even interpret it as being bored with her presence.

Yes, it is a terrifying period of life, Miss Kono says. But she adds:

"Everyone goes through this growing-up stage. So feel like a martyr if you will while learning the right way to charm and poise. Just keep in command of the situation and you'll have nothing to fear."

RADIO-CARBON ATOMS SLOWER

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Some hot atoms are lazy.

Radioactive carbon atoms are one of the lazy kind. They are larger and heavier than ordinary carbon atoms. The extra weight makes them sluggish, somewhat like excess fat on a human being.

Radio-carbon is about 10 per cent slower in its chemical reactions than ordinary carbon, experiments at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory show. Its laziness varies with the temperature.

This fact is important, because radio-carbon is being used widely to learn new things about biology and human chemistry, the action of drugs, and other puzzles.

Chemicals can be made containing the radio-carbon. The radio atoms can be traced to learn what happens to the chemical. The radio-carbon behaves chemically exactly like ordinary carbon.

Serious Rub

But there's a serious rub if the radio-atoms are sluggish. If it takes them longer to finish their work, the experimenters can be misled in making conclusions about what really happens in the same reaction with normal, non-radioactive atoms.

This kind of error can be avoided by making allowances for the laziness of the radio-atoms under different conditions.

Just this kind of timing is being done by Dr. Clair J. Collins and associates of the organic and as-chemicals group, chemical division of the Oak Ridge Laboratory. This unit has headquarters in the biology division.

So far they have studied two kinds of radioactive carbon — carbon-14 and carbon-13. Both are heavier than ordinary carbon, of atomic weight 12.

Slower Reactions

At room temperature, carbon-14 is about 10 per cent slower in reaction rate than ordinary carbon, they find. At low temperatures the radio-carbon is even more sluggish. At higher temperatures, the difference between the two gets smaller.

Carbon-13 is only 5 per cent slower than ordinary carbon at

11 CZECH REDS ARE EXECUTED AS "TRAITORS"

VIENNA (AP)—Rudolf Slansky and 10 other Czechoslovak Communist leaders convicted in the recent purge trial were executed early Wednesday, Prague radio announced.

The 11—once trusted servants of the Kremlin—were sentenced to death Nov. 27 as confessed traitors who admitted they led a "Zionist, Trotskyite" plot to overthrow their pro-Moscow government.

Those who died with Slansky, the Czech party's former secretary general, were:

Vlado Clementis, former Czech foreign minister;

Bedrich Gernider, former head of the communist party's international section and Kremlin spokesman in Prague;

Otto Sling, former deputy secretary general of the party;

Ludvik Frejka, former head of the State Economic Commission;

Bedrich Reicin, an ex-general and former deputy defense minister;

Otto Fischl, former deputy finance minister;

Rudolf Margolius, former deputy trade minister;

Andre Simone, ex-editor of the Czech Communist newspaper Rude Pravo;

3 Given Life Terms

Josef Frank, formerly Slansky's deputy and a member of the party's presidium;

Karl Svab, ousted last year as deputy minister of state security.

The other three defendants in the mass trial were given life sentences. They were Arthur London and Vavro Hajdu, both former deputy foreign ministers, and Evzen Loebl, former deputy foreign trade minister.

The court said Loebl had implicated the rest of the ring after his arrest in 1949 and the other two did not take a leading role in the alleged plot.

All the defendants except three—Clementis, Frank and Svab—were Jews. The trial was marked by virulent anti-Semitism including charges that the plotting was "Zionist-inspired." The implication of a broader crackdown on Jews behind the Iron Curtain was obvious.

Radio Prague said the execution took place at Pankrac Prison, in the Czech capital, after the state prosecutor had rejected all clemency appeals by the defense.

BELL GRANTED
PHONE BOOST

HARRISBURG (AP)—The end of the nickel phone booth call was heralded in Pennsylvania today in a 21 million dollar annual rate increase granted the Bell Telephone Co. for both residential and business telephones.

The Public Utility Commission authorized the rate increase on Tuesday of $21,227,000, effective on Sunday, to more than two million subscribers across the state. It was the largest rate increase in the commission's history.

The new rates were expected to increase residential telephone bills an average 32 cents a month and business phones from 30 cents to $1.20 a month.

The increase granted was almost 12 million dollars less than that sought by the company. It brought immediate comment from the company that the new rates are inadequate and "limits our ability to furnish telephone service when and where needed."

There was no immediate estimate from Bell on how long it will take to convert the mechanism of about 60,000 coin boxes throughout the state. They must be adjusted to give the dial tone upon deposit of two nickels or a dime instead of a single nickel as at present.

FIREMEN CALLED

Gettysburg firemen were called at 12:25 a.m. Tuesday to a house owned by Daniel Yingling and occupied by Harold Swope, on the former Bigham Brothers farm near the waterworks. Wiring in the basement short-circuited, firemen said, scorching a ceiling. Damage was reported as slight. Swope had extinguished the fire before the arrival of the firemen and their services were not needed.

TAFT MAY TRY TO STOP DURKIN CONFIRMATION

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft—and the rest of us—will find out promptly how much weight he still carries with his fellow Republicans if he tries to block Gen. Eisenhower's appointment of Martin P. Durkin as secretary of labor.

Durkin, like any other man named for a Cabinet job by the President, cannot take it unless the Senate approves. And when his name comes up for consideration in the new Republican-controlled Congress, Taft could fight him and, through him, Eisenhower.

That would provide an early test between the general and the senator. A victory for Taft would, in effect, be Taft telling Eisenhower: "Brother, if you want to do business, you're going to have to do it through me."

Voted Against Ike

Durkin, a 58-year-old Democrat who voted against Eisenhower, is a leader of the AFL, which also opposed the general and called for the full repeal of Taft's law.

Taft denounced the selection of Durkin as "incredible." He said some other things too, none of them complimentary. Republicans around the country seemed dismayed by this frontal assault on Eisenhower's judgment seven weeks before he took office.

Yet, they seemed reluctant to admit this Taftian attack meant a split between him and the President-elect. But a big question needs answering if this wasn't a split and a warning to Eisenhower of trouble ahead.

Just how many times does Eisenhower have to take a tongue-lashing from Taft, the man whom he defeated for the Republican presidential nomination, before relations between them can be considered split?

After Taft's outburst Tuesday, Republicans must be asking themselves: Is Taft going to do to Eisenhower what he did to President Truman? And where will that leave them four years from now when election comes around again.

Snow that continued through most of Tuesday kept highway department snow plows at work throughout the day but Wednesday morning only a few cinder crews were dispatched while several plows scraped slush from mountain roads.

Winter's second storm, a continuation of the snow and icy rain that struck the Keystone State Sunday, piled up to seven inches on main highways and rural roads in the state, making travel by motor vehicle hazardous in some areas.

In the eastern section of the state, around metropolitan Philadelphia, there was an off-again, on-again mixture of snow and rain. The outlying suburban sections suffered most from the weather.

Hardest hit was the Green Lane-Quakertown - Riegelsville section in Upper Montgomery and Bucks Counties. The State Highway Department measured the snowfall in this area as between three and seven inches.

UP TO 7 INCHES
